COX TRIUMPH WOULD AMAZE HIS OWN PARTY

Hope, Not Faith, Now Inspires Leaders.

ARTHUR SEARS HENNING,
New York, Oct. 26.—[Special.]—If
one should be elected president Tuesday, there would be few persons more surprised than his own campaign managers at Democratic national headquarters here.

Assign Panic to Rivals.
After the conference Mr. White issued a statement asserting that "the high command is panic-stricken and that by the end of the week the panic will be complete."

What Republican headquarters promote Cox's eleventh hour wabbling in the league, the Democratic leaders will gain votes for the ticket.

Pin Hopes on Quartet.
In the far west, the Democrats have a tangible basis for hope save in Utah, Nevada and Colorado.

FARMERS STRIKE; $3 WHEAT OR NO GRAIN, IS SLOGAN

Deliveries Slow Up at Western Points.

The "strike" of the farmers of the west and southwest against declining prices for wheat on the Chicago board of trade began last night. Two weeks ago the various organizations of farmers in Kansas, Oklahoma, Nebraska and the northwestern states instructed the farmers to hold their wheat until a fair price could be obtained. Oct.
25 was the date set.

December Closes at $2.10.
A little export demand by eastern houses sent prices up 11 cents a bushel.
December closed above $2.10, which is 15 cents a bushel higher than the quotations which aroused the wrath of the farmers.

WICHITA SHIPMENTS STOP.
Wichita, Kas., Oct. 26.—[Special.]— With 96,000 bushels of wheat in the bins and stacks of Kansas farmers, representing two-thirds of the year's crop, with empty box cars on nearly every railroad siding in the state, and with the country elevators ready to purchase wheat, there were just eighteen carloads of Kansas wheat on the Wichita market today.

Boycott Also Started.
Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 26.—[Special.]— Iowa farm bureau officials, in an authorized statement today, called upon Iowa farmers to hold their farm products and refuse to buy other than the bare necessities of life.

20 FRANCS TO $1, FEAR IN PARIS AS INDEMNITY LAGS

PARIS, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—Unless a satisfactory solution of the reparations problem is found, the dollar may easily go to 20 francs and sterling to over seventy before Christmas," was the opinion expressed today by one of the leading exchange experts in Paris.

SHE'S BEEN KIDDED BY EXPERTS

(Copyright: 1920: By The Chicago Tribune.)

IS SHE LIKELY TO BITE AGAIN IN 1920?

BILLION MARKS IS COST OF FEUD TO FATHER AND SON

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—[Delayed.]—Ten years ago August Thyssen, Germany's second richest man, quarreled with his second son, August, over various money matters, but chiefly regarding the division of his mother's fortune.
They went to law and nearly twenty years were fought out with the utmost bitterness.

Now it is all over and everything forgotten and forgiven. August Thyssen Sr. will pay all his son's debts—a task which he built up during the war, will not be difficult. The feud is said to have cost 1,000,000,000 marks.

GERMANY JAILS PEDDLERS OF ITS U-BOAT SECRETS

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—The German government a few days ago arrested a number of former naval officers against whom charges of high treason will be brought.

The case is a remarkable one. Not long ago the naval authorities leashed an ex-naval lieutenant named Von Berklen was engaged in suspicious transactions with foreigners. He was shadowed and it was found he had a number of confederates.

BRITISH POLICE NET CLOSES ON SOVIET SUSPECT

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The arrest here of a man giving the name D. Anderson, who was arraigned later today in the Bow street police court, may result in the discovery of the identity of Lenin's agents in Great Britain and the means by which the Russians have been in communication with revolutionists here and supplying them with advice and money.

Involves British M. P.
The man's alleged revelations involve Cecil Leestrang Malone, a member of parliament, who has posed as an advocate of Soviet Russia, since he made an unauthorized trip there early this year.

Had British Manuals.
Anderson also had a letter from a Swedish publishing house containing copies of "A Manual of Field Engineering," "The Field Service Book," and a book on machine guns—all technical manuals issued by the British army to officers. The seriousness of this lies in the fact that Malone is a former officer. He was deprived of the rank of colonel for entering Russia without permission.

First U. S. Labor Bank
Gets Cleveland Charter
Cleveland, O., Oct. 26.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers' Cooperation National Bank of Cleveland, today received its charter from the comptroller and will open its doors for business Nov. 1. This, it is said, is the first labor bank and the first co-operative commercial bank in the United States. The capital of the bank is $1,000,000 with a paid in surplus of $100,000. The stock is owned exclusively by the brotherhood and its members.

MASSACHUSETTS' BIG DEMOCRATS' RALLY TO G. O. P.

(Boston Globe-Herald.)

Boston, Mass., Oct. 26.—[Special.]— Leading Democrats in this section are deserting the Cox-Roosevelt standard and are coming out for Harding and Coolidge.

Even Senator Walsh has studiously avoided indicating any desire to aid the Democratic campaign in either state or nation. Richard H. Long, wealthy shoe manufacturer and former Democratic candidate for governor, and George Fred Williams, many times honored by the Democratic party, have gone over to Harding. Daniel T. O'Connell, leader of the Friends of Irish Freedom, has done likewise.

733,000 German Men and Women Are Out of Work BERLIN, Oct. 26.—The municipal employment bureau announced that 733,000 men and women in Germany are unemployed. Of these 150,000 are in Berlin. The labor ministry estimates that soon three millions will be unemployed or on short time. Women constitute approximately one-fourth of those idle.

IRISH LEADERS IN LONDON FOR MARTYR'S BODY

MacSwiney to Lie in State Today.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Donald O'Callaghan, Terence MacSwiney's successor as lord mayor of Cork, and twenty-one other members of the Cork corporation arrived in London today to attend the funeral ceremony here, which has been fixed for Thursday.

Then the party will accompany the body to Cork, where final obsequies are planned, all arrangements depending upon the attitude of the British government.

Ten members of the Cork harbor board and many other prominent citizens of Cork also arrived today and reported that all the available members of Dail Eirann ("the Irish republican parliament") were coming.

Lord Mayor MacSwiney's body is still in the prison mortuary, where members of the family keep constant watch. Only the widow is absent, for she is prostrated in her hotel, completely worn out by the long strain.
Annie and Mary MacSwiney, the dead man's sisters, are taking part in completing arrangements for the funeral.

The government's request is set for 11:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, after which the body will be taken to St.
George's cathedral, Southwark, where it will lie in state until the next morning.

Irish volunteer guards will be posted round the catafalque, who will be relieved at intervals of three hours.
London's Irish sympathizers are expected to pass before the body in great numbers as a last tribute of respect.

At 11 o'clock Thursday morning soldiers will be posted to guard the body which will be taken to St. George's cathedral, Southwark, where it will lie in state until the next morning.

The Ballot

The Tribune prints on page 3 of this issue a facsimile of the huge ballot to be voted in Chicago next Tuesday.

Huge Ballot and Huge Job Face Voters

Chicago voters next Tuesday will be confronted with the biggest election ballot ever printed in the city. Political experts think it breaks the record for size in the history of organized politics in the United States.

Men and women will be handed a blanket sheet of paper that measures 30 by 36 inches—almost a yard square. This will contain only the names of the candidates for presidential electors, state, congressional, legislative, and county candidates.

The ticket containing names of candidates for Municipal judges will be on a separate sheet of paper that is small in size, compared with the main ballot.
A third ballot contains the propositions—the fifty ward bill, the aldermanic term of office question, the daylight saving issue, and the referendum on the private banks bill.

Truck Them to Polling Places.
The principal ballots—specimens were available for inspection yesterday—are so tremendous in size that the board of election commissioners has abandoned any idea of requiring the precinct election officials to go to the city hall and get the ballots and other election equipment as has been the custom. For Tuesday's election, each package of ballots will weigh 250 pounds. Forty-six trucks will be used in distributing the ballots to the precincts.

Four Columns for Four Men.
The smashing size of the ballots is occasioned by the necessity, under the election law, of printing four full columns at the right end of the ballot, with the names of a single candidate in each column.

John Maynard Harlan is a candidate for governor on the "Harding-Coolidge Republican" ticket; Harrison Parker is a candidate for governor on "The Cooperative Party of America" ticket;
F. Parker Longworth, whose residence is 211 North Clark street, gets a full column as a candidate for governor on the "Liberal" ticket, and Henry Nell of Hinsdale gets another full column as a candidate for congressman at large as an "Independent."

There are also these complete tickets:
Democratic, Republican, Socialist, Socialist Labor, Prohibition, Farmer-Labor, and Single Tax. Each is headed by candidates for president and vice president and includes candidates for United States senator and governor.

Extra Cost $75,000.
The cost to the taxpayers of Chicago of printing the extra sheet ballots, occasioned by the four single candidate columns, is estimated by Chief Clerk Sullivan of the election board to be at least $75,000.

HEITLER MUM; "HIGH UPS" IN DEEP ANXIETY

Warrants Will Be Asked Today.

"Mike de Pike" Heitler, king pin of the booze rings, surrendered to the federal authorities at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

His surrender came after a dozen federal officials had for twenty-four hours scoured the city for him.

U. S. Weighs Three Plans.
With "Mike de Pike" in custody, federal attorneys conducting the liquor inquiry, last night were undecided as between three methods of procedure:
To appear before Judge Landis today and request subpoenas for public officials, policemen, saloonkeepers, and others concerned in the booze muck.
This would have the effect of placing the entire inquiry in the hands of the federal jurist.

To call a special grand jury and turn the inquiry over to it, with instructions to return indictments as fast as the evidence justified.

To turn the matter over to the present grand jury, and allow events to take their course.

It was believed probable last night that the first of these methods would be adopted. Judge Landis is already on record as favoring stringent action in the inquiry.

"Mike" Refuses to Talk.
"Mike de Pike's" arrest came in connection with his notorious $200,000 booze-police-holdup coup. Statements obtained from Maurice (Moose) Joy and John H. Miller, as well as others implicated in the same mixup, have involved Heitler, it is said, to the point where conviction is certain.

Immediately following his surrender, Heitler was quizzed for an hour by two federal attorneys.

One searched the loop and outlying saloons and bath houses. The other lay in wait for Heitler at his residence at 2407 Madison avenue. Neither squad was successful. Heitler passed the night on the north side.

"Mike de Pike" Surrendered.

Yesterday the search was continued. Heitler's attorney was telephoned and he agreed to surrender. Mike de Pike at 5 o'clock. Promptly to the minute Heitler disembarked from the elevator on the eighth floor of the federal building. Three minutes later newspapermen were informed he had been arrested.

STATE LEADERS OF G. O. P. FIGURE 300,000 VICTORY

Expect Small Will Run Behind Harding.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Republican leaders from all over the state foregathered yesterday at the Great Northern hotel and took a pre-election census of what is likely to happen in Illinois next Tuesday. The general opinion rounded into the verdict that Illinois will go at least 300,000 for Harding and Coolidge, and that the entire Republican state ticket will be elected. They tended to agree that small for governor will run between 75,000 and 100,000 behind Harding, but that he will be elected, due to the sweep toward the Republican national ticket that cannot now be held up, they said.

Buck Issues Statement.

Many men in the conference were members of the Illinois state senate. Particular emphasis was placed by the organization leaders on a statement issued by Senator Clarence F. Buck, Republican campaign manager for John G. Oglesby. Senator Buck's statement follows:

"I was consistently in favor of the nomination of Lieut. John G. Oglesby as the Republican candidate for governor and did everything that I could, honorably, for his success at the primary.

"Likewise, having been a part of the Republican administration of the state's affairs during the last four years, I take considerable satisfaction in the fact that it has been productive of more constructive legislation, enacted in the interest and for the welfare of the whole people of Illinois, than any other state administration in my time.

"Need More Than 'Expert Kidder.'"

"I cannot, at this time, put aside the fact that this administration succeeded a Democratic administration, the distinguishing features of which were waste and incompetency, and I cannot see anything ahead but a return of the same conditions should the present Democratic nominee for governor be successful.

"Without the slightest pretense to any degree of business sense or sagacity, this candidate would presume to take over this great state's affairs by a campaign in which 'pink whiskers' and being an 'expert kidder' of fair waltresses has been capitalized as his chief publicity producers.

"None of that for me. I prefer to put aside my disappointment and take the chances for a continuation of the present sound business administration of our affairs by remaining regular, voting the straight ticket, and thereby electing a Republican governor and a Republican legislature."

Small on Utilities Commission.

Len Small, Republican nominee for governor, is placed in the attitude of standing for the following statement that was issued through his campaign headquarters: "I stand now, as before, foursquare for the repeal of the state public utilities act. If elected, I will put out of office the state public utilities commission which has decreed that sacred contracts with the people and the traction companies are not binding upon the traction barons but only on the people."

"I renew my pledge that I will urge in my inaugural message legislation that will permit the people of Chicago to adopt the Thompson Plan for People's Ownership and Operation of Street Cars at a 5 cent fare."

The capitals are those of the state and as received by THE TRIBUNE.

DEMOCRATS TO GIVE COX A RED FIRE FINISH HERE

Candidate to Be Kept on Jump Throughout Day.

Red fire, Roman candles and sky-rockets will illuminate the streets of Chicago through which Gov. James M. Cox will pass Saturday night when he winds up the Democratic national campaign in Chicago. The Managing committee of the Democratic party of Cook county made plans yesterday to welcome Gov. Cox with an old-time political demonstration, including a torch light parade and fireworks. Everything possible is to be done to give the campaign a spectacular finale. The demonstration will center on the west side in the heavily Democratic Bohemian-American and Polish-American wards. Gov. Cox, arriving in the morning, speaks first at the Woods' theater to an audience exclusively of women. Then he goes to the City club for luncheon and later to Gary, Ind. for an afternoon meeting. Returning to Chicago he will speak at 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the Patten gymnasium in Evanston. Plans which had been made for his attendance at the Chicago-Ohio State football game have been abandoned.

Big Meeting at Coliseum.

The big evening meeting will be held at the Coliseum. The parade and fireworks features will follow this meeting. Leaving the Coliseum at 9:15 Gov. Cox will be escorted by a delegation of Bohemian-American and Polish-American wards. Gov. Cox, arriving in the morning, speaks first at the Woods' theater to an audience exclusively of women. Then he goes to the City club for luncheon and later to Gary, Ind. for an afternoon meeting. Returning to Chicago he will speak at 5 o'clock in the afternoon at the Patten gymnasium in Evanston. Plans which had been made for his attendance at the Chicago-Ohio State football game have been abandoned.

From the Harrison school another parade, along the route of which other fireworks will be burned will take place. This will be composed of Polish-American citizens, whom the governor is to address at St. Stanislaus' Auditorium at Bradley and Noble streets at 10 o'clock.

May Make Midnight Talk.

His day may not end then. The South Shore country club, through its president John G. Campbell, has extended an invitation to him to appear before it and wind up the campaign with a midnight meeting. The invitation has not been acted upon.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York will follow Gov. Cox into the city, speaking here at two meetings next Sunday in an effort to line up Jewish voters for Cox. He is scheduled to speak at the Herzl school, Ridgeway

NUTSHELL POLITICS

Herbert Hoover in Chicago last night said he thinks Harding, his choice for president, "will be an easy winner."

P. J. Carr, Democratic candidate for sanitary district trustee, has been indorsed by the steam and operating engineers' union.

Former Mayor Carter H. Harrison has written a letter to Francis X. Busch, Democratic candidate for county judge, commending his record as attorney for the civil service commission and indorsing his candidacy.

The Torrence Land Title Registration league has adopted resolutions denouncing the official record of Joseph F. Haas, Republican candidate for reelection as recorder, and indorsing T. J. Crowe, his Democratic opponent.

The Suburban Civic and Equal Suffrage club of Oak Park has arranged for a joint debate on national issues tomorrow evening at the Oak Park High school auditorium. Mrs. Medill McCormick and State Senator James J. Barbour will speak for the Republicans and Mrs. George M. Bass and Edwin Hedrick for the Democrats.

Leasing Rosenthal, president of the Lewis Non-Partisan Lawyers' league, has sent out a letter to members of the bar in Illinois urging the election of James Hamilton Lewis for governor.

"Len Small is allied with an organization whose misdeeds of Chicago is a matter of common notoriety, and the extension of whose power would imperil the welfare of Illinois," the letter says.

Democratic county candidates have joined in an appeal to the labor vote in a circular which is being distributed in a circular, a portion of which reads: "Why are all the big interests, all the capitalists, all the great employers of labor, all the captains of industry for Harding? Because they know he is a reactionary—a man of their own kidney. Harding's election will stamp labor's meal ticket with the black word hunger. Don't forget that Harding stands for hard times."

HEARST URGES COX TO DISCARD WILSON AND WIN

Wishes Him Success if He Drops the League.

New York, Oct. 27.—[Special.]—In William Randolph Hearst's New York paper, the American, this morning appears the following from Mr. Hearst's signature:

"Gov. Cox has finally realized that the people of the United States do not want the league of nations."

"The Hearst papers have been saying this from the day that the league program first became public through the discovery of the copy of its secret provisions sent the Wall Street bankers by Barney Baruch."

"If Gov. Cox had followed the advice of the Hearst papers he would have taken his present stand at the beginning of his campaign. If the Democratic party had been a truly Democratic party and not merely a Wilson party, it would have taken the Jeffersonian position of opposition to foreign entangling alliances, and it would have carried this election."

Wilson a Millstone.

"If Gov. Cox had realized earlier that President Wilson's pro-British policies were a millstone and not a life preserver, he would not have hurried to Washington before taking his political plunge to have that millstone hung about his devoted neck."

"Gov. Cox is now trying to get rid of the millstone that is dragging him to the depths of defeat."

"The Hearst papers wish him success and hope that his repudiation of Wilson and the Wilson policies will be sufficiently complete and sufficiently prompt to do him some good before election."

"Harding Now Wabbles."

"Senator Harding, subjected to the powerful financial influences which control the Republican party, is beginning to wobble on the league."

"The 'Wiggle and Wabble' that the Republican campaign posters say we must be done with is beginning to appear in the attitude and utterances of the Republican candidate."

"There is yet time, Gov. Cox, to take the historic Democratic position."

"Repudiate utterly Wilson and the Wilson party, lead a truly Democratic party with true Jeffersonian policies, and lead it to victory."

"Be an American."

"And, be president."

"The Hearst papers gladly support any Democratic standing stanchly for the principles of the fathers of this republic and the founders of the Democratic party."

"WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST."

Lewis Versatile on Stage; Small Comes to City Today

Henchmen of your mayor, peering out the windows of the Thompson headquarters in the Union hotel, beheld a disconcerting spectacle yesterday noon. It was the stream of Chicago voters hurrying into the Olympic theater.

next door, to hear the great J. Ham.

Within a few minutes the S. R. O. sign was necessary. Theatrical managers, eyeing the throng, began to realize that as J. HAMILLON LEWIS, a bewhiskered orator of Illinois is a Barrymore and a Johnson and then some.

And He's a Versatile "Ham."

Col. Lewis was a versatile actor, too. He achieved the ridiculous and the sublime with equal ease. He quoted Shakespeare and he quoted "Bill" Thompson.

"Mayor Thompson wrote me a letter," he informed his hearers proudly. "It opens by calling me a liar," he continued. Several years ago, Col. Lewis said, Big Bill had characterized a governor as both liar and crook.

Only a Liar So Far.

"At least up to this point I am only a liar," concluded J. Ham, a note of hope in his voice.

A burst of cheers came when the speaker told how a Negro editor had informed him over the telephone that colored reporters would be present in the meeting to record his statements and the former senator cried:

"I want a just community here, but before God this is a white man's government. While I want no white man's government that will misgovern any Negro or any white man, I will have no criminal Negro misgovern my white men by crooked manipulation of the ballot."

But stay, gentle reader, wouldst hear the latest gubernatorial jest? It is told that Lem Small entered a barber shop while in Peoria, according to an editor of that town, and after waiting impatiently for a few minutes exclaimed:

"How long must the next governor of Illinois wait to get a shave?"

"Why," returned the barber, looking up in alarm, "is J. Ham going to have his whiskers taken off?"

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—The Republican state candidates closed their eight day campaign downstate with a rousing meeting in the East High School auditorium here tonight.

Sixty-five counties have been visited by the "harmony special" on the trip and tomorrow Len Small will carry his campaign into Chicago. He declared tonight he has found Republicans united everywhere and predicted the "greatest Republican victory ever recorded in Illinois."

"I have never seen a time," he said "when the people of Illinois took greater interest in public questions than this year. The electorate is thoroughly aroused over the Wilson-Cox-Lewis attempt to barter away the sovereignty of the United States by forcing our country into the league of nations. The men and women also remember that the last Democratic administration, left the state treasury practically without funds. The people are alive to these issues. Republican leadership is working strenuously and unitedly. I am confident of the result next Tuesday."

McKinley Asks Support for All.

Congressman William B. McKinley, candidate for United States senator, appealed to those who voted for him at the primary to support the entire Republican ticket. He charged the Democratic administration with war time legislation favoring the south and pledging the greater burden of taxation upon the north. He pointed out that Illinois with one-sixtieth of the area of the entire country and one-eighth of the population, is now paying one-eighth of the whole federal tax, more than twelve southern states are paying.

Illinois, he said, is paying $70 per capita in federal taxes, while Mississippi pays only $7 per capita, and Alabama $5 per capita. This is manifestly unfair, he asserted, in view of the fact that Illinois' quota in the draft was increased while that in the southern states was reduced.

Warns Against Nonpartisan Claim.

"An attempt has been made to mislead the voters by a claim of non-partisanship on the part of the Democratic candidate for the governorship," he said. "Make no mistake. He was Democratic whip of the United States senate and was responsible for seeing that the Wilson policies and measures were approved."

"Our Democratic opponents can hope for success only by a division of our strength. We must meet them with a united front. Our entire ticket must carry the state by a great majority."

The candidates' final day's swing took them to Rochelle, De Kalb, Bloomington, Belvidere, Caledonia, Harvard, Woodstock, Elgin, West Chicago, Geneva, and Batavia.

FREE AMERICA BEST FOR ALL, HARDING SAYS

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Marion, O., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Senator Harding said today the only safety for the United States is to remain outside of the league of nations until a new plan for an association of nations is formed that shall have no uncertainty or equivocation about it. The precise obligations that this country would be called upon to fulfill under the present league are indefinite, he pointed out today.

"A free America," he said, "can give better service to the world."

Comments on Statement.

The senator commented on a Brussels cablegram in which M. Leon Bourgeois, president of the league of nations council, was quoted as saying that "Article X is the moral foundation of the covenant." He is further quoted as saying that Article X could be eliminated without in any way modifying the effectiveness of the league of nations, and that it was not considered so important by Europeans as by Americans. There are other articles in the covenant indicating penalties and sanctions. M. Bourgeois is represented as saying:

"This is most illuminating," said Senator Harding. "We are told by the great American authority on the covenant, President Wilson, that Article X is its heart. Now comes M. Bourgeois, president of the league council, and says it is not important. He informs us that 'all that is efficacious in the covenant is set forth in other articles.' This can only mean that even if Article X were eliminated its effect would still be preserved in other articles. Doubtless he means that if Article X were eliminated Article XI would have the same effect. That was repeatedly charged during the senate discussion and never convincingly denied."

Differs With Wilson.

"This is most illuminating," said Senator Harding. "We are told by the great American authority on the covenant, President Wilson, that Article X is its heart. Now comes M. Bourgeois, president of the league council, and says it is not important. He informs us that 'all that is efficacious in the covenant is set forth in other articles.' ## Everett Brown Boosts Crowe; Igoe Points to Lawless City

Everett C. Brown last night issued an appeal to every lover of clean athletic sports to support Judge Robert E. Crowe, Republican candidate for state's attorney. Mr. Brown is president of the Public Schools Athletic association, was twice president of the Chicago Athletic association, and a member of the Olympic commission in charge of American athletes during the international games at Antwerp. In urging Judge Crowe's election Mr. Brown said:

"Judge Crowe has always been an advocate of clean athletic sports. As state's attorney he will be a constant safeguard against pernicious influence in sport."

"Chicago, in the very near future, I believe, will be hostess to the Olympic games. Plans for a stadium to house such an extensive exhibition are now in the hands of the south park commission."

"It is necessary to convince promoters of crooked boxing and wrestling matches, and all others who have designs upon contests of skill and agility, that Chicago will not tolerate these activities. The election of Judge Crowe will be a decided and positive step toward establishing Chicago as a place where only fair and honest athletics are held."

Michael L. Igoe, Democratic candidate for state's attorney, in his speech last night continued to lambaste the city hall and the reign of lawlessness in Chicago. He spoke in the same strain to an overflow audience at the Olympic theater at noon.

"The campaign is drawing to a close," he said. "In a few days the men and women of Chicago will decide whether or not control of the machinery of the criminal law will pass into the hands of the most dangerous confederation of wastrels that ever dominated the government of a big city."

"They will decide whether the reign of lawlessness that is now terrorizing whole areas of Cook county shall continue or whether criminals shall be punished and crime diminished. They will decide whether our homes shall be free from gangs of organized burglars; whether our streets shall be safe for our women and children."

"As matters stand now, Chicago has been given a bad name because those who were entrusted with the duty of protecting that name have turned renegades and betrayed their city."

"Their sole reliance of the future lies in the office of state's attorney."

JAPS' FECUNDITY AND INFERIORITY HELD U. S. PERIL

Californian Gives Reasons for New Legislation.

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 26.—The Japanese Exclusion League of California, through the chairman of its executive committee, J. S. Chambers, state controller of California, today issued a statement in answer to that made publishing Oct. 25 by the federal council of churches of Christ in America, which deplored agitation and hasty action in the matter of Japanese immigration.

Mr. Chambers' statement said that the movement in California, far from being a vote catching propaganda of politicians appealing to race prejudice and mob feeling, is really based on incontrovertible and startling facts, supported by official state investigation, under legislative direction, and fully corroborated in hearings of the house committee on immigration, held on the Pacific coast in July and August of this year.

Gives Backers' Names.

After giving a list of the Exclusion League backers, who represent all walks of life, the statement says:

"Certain aspects of the problem are particularly of state concern, and exclusively of state jurisdiction. In these matters California is scrupulously guarding treaty and vested rights of the Japanese but declining to accord rights to them not accorded to Americans in Japan, and which, if continued here, would certainly create a race problem, with the friction and trouble which both countries wish to avoid."

"The problem is national and international, and the league will cooperate with the federal government in working out the proper remedy. That remedy, while insuring fully protection to American interests, should be so applied, if possible, as to avoid hurting Japan's feelings."

"Certainly the way to insure misunderstanding and trouble with Japan is to encourage or permit the steady and rapid growth in this country of an unassimilable alien community, whose advantages in economic competition and whose great birth rate would in time force the whites out of the most favored localities and make race conflict inevitable."

"CALIFORNIA INTOLERABLE."

TOKIO, Oct. 26.—[By the Associated Press.]—The political affairs committee of the Kenrei-Kai (opposition) has adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the anti-Japanese land legislation in California is not merely a threat against the development of the Japanese nation abroad, but also a menace to the advancement of international friendship between this empire and America."

"Viewed either from the standpoint of humanity and justice, or the standpoint of Japan's rights, secured by treaty stipulations, or from the principle of international friendship binding two neighboring nations, such unreasonable and unjust legislation cannot be tolerated."

"The imperial government is requested to insist strongly upon Japan's right and to protest against such legislation, frankly expressing rightful reasons for objecting thereto, with the firm determination of accelerating a speedy solution of the pending question."

FLYING BURNING CAR IN LOOP.

Flashes of electricity and clouds of smoke startled passersby at Clark and Randolph streets yesterday afternoon. The fire box in a Westworth-Clark car had been broken, setting the car afire. Conductor Frank Blum, 4118 Calumet avenue, pulled the trolley pole from the wire and shut off the current. Three women were knocked down as the passenger cars made a rush for the door.

WOMAN CANDIDATE FOR LEGISLATURE

ANNA ROGERS PARR.

Anna Rogers Parr of Vera, Jefferson county, is the first Illinois woman to be nominated formally as a candidate for the Illinois general assembly. She has filed her petition as an independent candidate in the Fortieth senatorial district, composed of the counties of Christian, Cumberland, Fayette, and Shelby, and is the only woman candidate for legislative office in Illinois on Tuesday's ballot.

Mrs. Parr was born and reared in Jefferson county, has been a teacher in the public schools for twenty-one years, twelve years as a high school principal, and four years as county superintendent of schools of Douglas county.

She has been endorsed by the Anti-Saloon league and proposes, if elected to the house, to work at Springfield for the maintenance and development of the public school system and for better laws for the farmers, according to her campaign statement.

Emergency Fleet Board Sued for $2,353,416

New York, Oct. 26.—Suit for $2,353,416 damages against the United States shipping board and the Emergency Fleet corporation was begun today by the Huron, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Birmingham Steamship companies. The four companies allege they lost this amount through failure of the two bodies to keep an alleged promise to transfer to Canadian registry twelve steel freighters and to advance $750,000 to facilitate the construction of the vessels last year at the Virginia Shipbuilding corporation yard at Alexandria, Va.

ANTI-JAPANISM IN CALIFORNIA 20 YEARS OLD

May Have Been Inspired by Chinese Exclusion.

Events are making of the Pacific the great theater for American performance in the near future. California is about to vote on an anti-Japanese land law, America is confronting with Japan the ultimate division of German property in the far east, Japan is interfering with American trade in China and elsewhere in the Orient, the United States is restricting Japanese trade with the Jones coastwise shipping law, and now it has been announced that the combined fleets of the American navy are to be sent into the Pacific this coming June.

In order that we may better understand the developments in the news in the forthcoming days, "The Tribune" is gathering from authoritative sources, some friendly and some antagonistic to Japan, a comprehensive report on the whole field. We already have obtained information which will be a revelation to America.

First will come the situation in California by a writer not unfriendly to Japan. The first of his articles appears herewith.

BY R. W. RYDER.
[Copyright, 1920, By The Chicago Tribune.]
San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Signs of anti-Japanese agitation began to appear specifically in California, Oregon, and Washington—particularly in California—about 1900.

However sincere its inspiration may have been and however far its origin may have been removed from politics, the issues raised by opposition to the Japanese held too much allurements for petty politicians to keep politics from becoming an important and determining part in the campaign of anti-Japanism.

The Case of the Chinese.

To understand the Japanese situation in California today it is necessary to go back to the days of Dennis Kearney of the "pik handle brigade" and the circumstances which led up to the legal exclusion of the Chinese from America.

For years the Chinese were welcome in California, as they furnished a variety of cheap labor, which was much in demand. Then came the Workingman's party and Dennis Kearney with the slogan, "The Chinese Must Go." He rallied about him a large organization of citizens, largely members of the Workingman's party, and a veritable reign of terror set in.

Chinese were shot, stabbed, and even burned to death in different sections of California. Violence bred violence. However, finally the campaign accomplished its purpose, for on Oct. 1, 1888, congress passed the absolute exclusion act against the Chinese, under whose terms thousands of Chinese, lawful residents of this country, upon their final visits to China, were forbidden to return to their homes and families in the United States.

This is now ancient history and bears no relation to the Japanese situation of today unless the early stages of the anti-Chinese agitation would seem to find their parallel in the campaign now being made against the sons of Nippon.

True—and happily so—there has been no violence thus far, and it is to the credit of those who are leading the fight against the Japanese that they have advocated none but peaceful methods.

Into the vacuum created by the exclusion of the Chinese the Japanese were drawn, supplying as they did the cheap labor formerly furnished by the Chinese. They, too, in the early days, were accorded hearty welcome by California and the other Pacific coast states.

A Fleeting Friendship.

Readily accommodating themselves to any circumstances, the Japanese were faithful and industrious workers and were peaceful and orderly in their daily lives.

So for nearly twenty years Japanese came to California and the Pacific coast unopposed. Indeed, they were encouraged to come and the friendliest of relations grew up between America and the land of the rising sun.

But such was not to continue indefinitely. Opposition to the Japanese began, as has been written, about 1900. At various times since then it has expressed itself in variant forms and different demands.

In 1906 separate schools for orientals were demanded in San Francisco, which subsided only when President Roosevelt secured the so-called "gentlemen's agreement" from Japan that no more Japanese laborers should be given passports to this country.

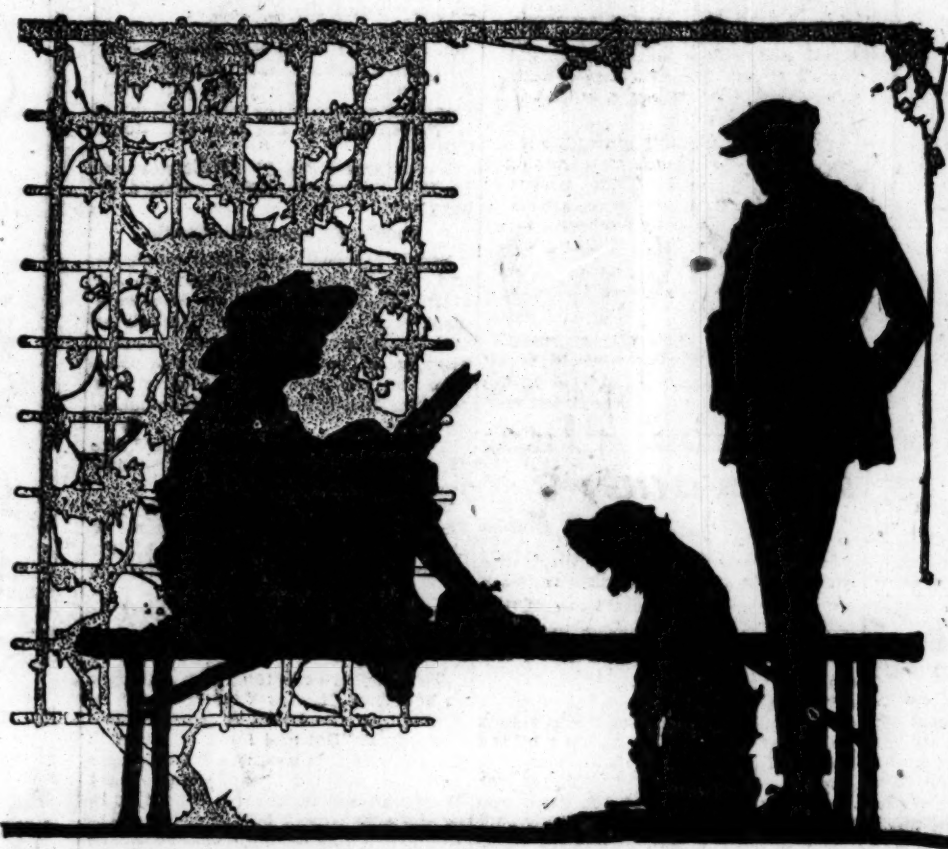

In 1912 it appeared belligerently and demanded and secured passage of, despite the earnest protest of the United States government, a land law which denied Japanese the right to purchase agricultural land and limited their right of leasehold thereon to three years.

This done, agitation seemed to have spent itself and for a time lay dormant, but in 1919 it blazed forth again in full force.

From that time it has continued to grow, until now it threatens the continuity of the traditional friendly relations between America and Japan by proposing and actively urging a national program which embraces total Japanese exclusion; cancellation of the "gentlemen's agreement," and denial of the right to citizenship of American born Japanese children; and a state program which is designed to deny to Japanese the right to lease land for agricultural purposes.

BULLETIN.

Marion, O., Oct. 26.—Diplomat tonight of reports reaching state department that a Washington Vanderlip was acting as his agent in Russia.

"I have never heard of Vanderlip," the senator said. "I know absolutely nothing about any such matter as is discussed in these dispatches, and have no interest in it whatever."

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Secretary of State Colby tonight & report from the Russian commissioner at Riga, which in the state department at 10, containing an inference that the British author, informed by the Russian representative in the United States, had been making proposals to the government.

The report, which was given by a young man, named D. Vanderlip, who had been in the state department at 10, containing an inference that the British author, informed by the Russian representative in the United States, had been making proposals to the government.

Did Not Try to Consult Harding.

Senator Colby pondered a message since Oct. 20, admitting that he had not consulted Mr. Harding about it. He did not make it public tonight only after seeing reports from Moscow regarding Russian concessions negotiating.

The secretary insisted he was not by any political motive in public the report, but that it was a serious matter from the standpoint of the legitimate interests of the department, and he wished to give Senator Harding an opportunity to confirm or deny that he had the effort of an American diplomat to negotiate with the Soviet government concerning recognition of Russia which the present States government has repudiated.

Colby's Official Comment.

Appended to his official statement report Mr. Colby makes following personal comment:

"The Wells referred to in the dispatch is undoubtedly Mr. H. G. Wells, the British writer, who has returned to England from Russia. I understand he visited for the purpose of obtaining first hand impressions of the Russian situation."

HARDING UPSETS COLBY'S CHARGE OF RUSSIAN DEAL

Never Heard of Vanderlip, Candidate Says.

BULLETIN.

Marion, O., Oct. 26.—Direct denial was made by Senator Harding tonight of reports reaching the state department that a Washington Vanderlip was acting as his agent in Russia.

"I have never heard of Mr. Vanderlip," the senator said. "He is not my agent, and I have no agent. I know absolutely nothing about any such matter as is discussed in these dispatches, and have no interest in it whatever."

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Secretary of State Colby made public tonight a report from the American commissioner at Riga, which has been in the state department since Oct. 1, containing an inference that Senator Harding, Republican candidate for president of the United States, had a representative in Soviet Russia who had been making proposals to the Bolshevik government.

The report, called by American Commissioner Young concerned Washington D. Vanderlip, who had been negotiating and concessions in Russia. Mr. Young stated that H. G. Wells, the British author, informed him he had been told by Lenin that Vanderlip had negotiated with him for concessions and concessions in Russia.

Mr. Young stated that he had made proposals to the Bolshevik government concerning recognition of the Soviet government by the United States.

Colby's Official Comment.

Appended to his official state department report Mr. Colby makes the following personal comment:

"The Wells referred to in the dispatches is undoubtedly Mr. H. G. Wells, the British writer, who has lately returned to England from Russia, which I understand he visited for the purpose of obtaining first hand impressions of

Asks Peer's Seat

Viscountess Wants to Sit in House of Lords.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Viscountess Rhonda, peeress in her own right, has petitioned King George to order a writ issued summoning her to serve in parliament as a member of the house of lords. Peeresses in their own right, of whom there are about twenty-five, have all the dignities and privileges of peers except that of sitting in the house of lords, thus being in a different position from that of the wives of peers, who merely take their husbands' titles.

Lady Rhonda claims recent legislation equalizes the positions of the sexes. This is the first time a peeress has sought the right.

conditions in Russia. The Vanderlip referred to in the dispatch is presumably Mr. Washington D. Vanderlip, to whom reference is made in the press dispatches of today from London to Los Angeles. These press reports lend confirmation to the object of Mr. Vanderlip's activities as revealed in the department's official dispatch, and speak at length of important and extensive concessions which he claims to have received from the Soviet government.

The report that Mr. Vanderlip has made proposals looking to the recognition of the Soviet government and is apparently bargaining thereon for valuable concessions, makes it proper for me to state, by way of warning, that as the government of the United States has never recognized the Bolshevik régime, American business men and investors should bear in mind that any concessions from the Bolshevik authorities would have no certainty of recognition by future Russian governments.

Only on Business Trip.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 26.—It was stated here today by Harry Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times, on behalf of the syndicate represented by Washington D. Vanderlip, now in Copenhagen, that Mr. Vanderlip represents purely personal business interests here and elsewhere in the west. He said that Vanderlip and those he represents have no connection, either personal or political, with Senator Harding.

HARDING AN EASY WINNER, YANKEES IN EUROPE SAY

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PARIS, Oct. 26.—If every American citizen in Europe could register his or her vote by mail in the same way as the President and Mrs. Wilson send theirs to New Jersey, Senator Harding would be assured of a strong majority from this side of the ocean.

The European edition of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, the only newspaper in Europe edited by Americans, has conducted a straw vote among Americans in Europe for the last twelve days,

Of every 1,000 American citizens in Europe, 550 vote for Harding, 400 vote for Cox, and fifty vote for Debs. Fifty-five per cent of the votes cast so far were for Harding, 40 per cent for Cox, and 5 per cent for Debs. Thus Harding polled a substantial plurality over both the other candidates and a healthy majority of all the votes cast.

On all the ballots the voters indicated their sex. The results of the female vote showed that 53 per cent of the women cast their ballot for Harding, while 43 per cent expressed their preference for Cox. Debs polled the remaining 4 per cent.

The results showed Harding even a stronger favorite with the men. The senator polled 56 per cent of all the male votes against Cox's 38 per cent, and Debs' 6 per cent. Two and a half times as many men as women voted.

RICCI TO BE NEW AMBASSADOR TO U. S., ROME HEARS

(Rome, Oct. 26.—Senator Roland Ricci, according to the Popolo Romano today, will be appointed Italian ambassador to Washington.

NEWS TO WASHINGTON.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Neither the state department nor the Italian embassy has received any word of the intention of the Italian government to appoint Senator Roland Ricci as ambassador to the United States. Senator Ricci is a distinguished lawyer. Embassy officials said he had not been closely affiliated with the Socialist leaders now in power in Italy.

FREE California Moving Pictures and Almond Lecture

Kimball Hall, Wabash Ave. and Jackson Blvd. 2nd Floor

Come! Tonight! Take a "movie" trip with us out to sunny California. We'll leave while a north wind blizzard is fighting for supremacy in Chicago's murky, soot-begrimed atmosphere. For a day or more the snow will beat against our car window panes. Then we'll dip down into at night, a ball of fiery red, behind a range of purple hills. We'll follow the trail of the "fortyniners" and stop off a while at the Grand Canyon, whose wonders no writer's pen nor artist's brush has ever been able to portray. Then on to California, through orange and lemon groves, and get off at Los Angeles, where we'll spend a day or so viewing the sights, with a trip down to the beach and a plunge in the surf—just three days after leaving Chicago in the grip of a snow storm! Again on board the train, we'll travel north, along Pacific's cresting waves, and take a side trip through Yosemite's scenic wonders. West again to PASO ROBLES, where the almonds grow!

Here you will see the tractors cultivating the soil, going over the hills and valleys—the planting crews at work setting out the young trees—orchards in every stage of development—the crops being gathered, sacked and made ready for shipment. These pictures give you a clear understanding of the vast scale on which we are conducting our operations and also show why almond growing in the hands of our Horticultural Experts has become so phenomenally successful.

Yes, come! Hear and see how California has opened her door of opportunity to you—NOW—and why it is an opportunity which is fast coming to an end. Get proof of the big profits others are making in almond growing and see for yourself how easily you can do the same thing if you will only act promptly.

Inasmuch as these pictures and the lecture have little or no interest for children, parents are kindly requested not to bring them if it can possibly be avoided. We wish to make sure of having a seat for every person to whom this proposition is of real interest.

Paso Robles Almond Photo Book to Everybody

To everyone attending this lecture tonight we will present a copy of this beautifully illustrated book. It is profusely illustrated with photographic reproductions of the almond growing industry in the Paso Robles district and the scenic wonders of California. By all means attend this lecture if you can. If you find it impossible, call at our office at your convenience or send us your name and address—a postal will do—and we will mail to you a free copy of the book.

CLIMBING DOWN THE FINANCIAL LADDER.

Acceptance of wage reductions in preference to loss of jobs in various New England textile mills indicates an appreciation of economic conditions likely to have far reaching consequences. These workers are showing practical recognition of fundamental facts which give weight to their assertion that dividends as well as wages are factors in high prices and are equally subject to reduction to maintain the balance of life.

Some large producers have reduced prices. More have not. Some retailers have reduced prices. Some have not. All will be forced to do so. The interesting point is whether they will descend the ladder or have it kicked out from under them.

The downward trend of prices and consequent uncertainty of business will be checked only when demand for the commodities involved is improved. It will not be improved if vast numbers of workers are thrown out of employment and thereby eliminated as potential purchasers. It will be improved if these workers are kept on the pay rolls, even at reduced wages, if at the same time prices are lowered.

The textile mill workers are making a small sacrifice to avoid a greater one. Employers, wholesalers and retailers, must do likewise. Arbitrary dismissal of great numbers of workers will bring hardship to those dismissed and certain loss not only to those firms which thus cease business but to all concerns which provide goods for the workers.

Clothing of an automobile factory in Detroit, for instance, not only stops the income of its workers but of its owners, causes the latter added loss in plant depreciation and idle capital, and is reflected in reduction of business in Detroit stores and in all the factories and wholesale houses of the United States which supply Detroit stores. The Chicago building situation offers another illustration. High prices, both of materials and labor, have almost stopped building. Thousands of workers are idle. If they cannot build they cannot buy.

If employers and employees will cooperate to correct such conditions, as they indirectly cooperated to raise prices, they can stabilize industry and trade on a firmer, if lower, basis. They are hesitating to do so, but those of best judgment and vision are beginning to submit to the inevitable. The textile industry of New England indicates that a move toward such adjustment is possible. Others can, if they will, descend from the financial heights without a fall.

FROM MR. SMALL.

In the Herald and Examiner of Oct. 20 Mr. Small was quoted as saying:

"He [Lewis] demanded American boys be conscripted to fight the war. He demanded American citizens buy Liberty bonds and War Savings stamps in order to finance our associates, including England and Japan. Mr. Lewis, in the United States senate, voted for the billions of Wilson appropriations, a great proportion of which was recklessly, if not criminally, squandered."

"After voting away our money to sustain and strengthen England and Japan, he now has the audacity to issue a 'sermon' at the Congressional church in Madison that we are in peril of war with these countries which we have helped 'until it hurts'!"

The Tribune asked Mr. Small if he had issued that statement. He replied that THE TRIBUNE often quoted Lewis for the senate in 1918, and he quotes an editorial condemning Lewis as a senator.

This is no answer at all unless it is to be interpreted as an admission that Mr. Small was correctly quoted in the statement attributed to him. That indicates that Mr. Small has taken his place with Americans who think it was wrong for the United States to try to win the war, and that it was a mistake to win it.

That is asserted as a political opinion in Chicago, and it seems to make good campaign medicine, strange as it is for Americans to regret success in a war. A politician can carry Chicago if he has a war record which the American Legion condemns or if he has opinions which might have landed him in jail two years ago.

It is a curiosity, but it proves up, and it may be good politics in Chicago for Mr. Small to intimate that he would not have had anything to do with urging people to buy Liberty bonds or War Savings stamps, and would not have voted for the selective draft or the war appropriations if he had been in the senate.

Possibly it is better politics in Chicago than it is down state where there is not so much regret that the war was won. As to Mr. Small's curious reply to the question, we can say that if he and Mr. Lewis were running now for the United States senate we should support Small on the theory that he could not carry his state associations into the federal government and he would be, in the senate, a Republican vote to carry out Republican policies. His personality and the state political influences which promote and animate him would be absorbed to a large extent in the fact that he would be a Republican vote.

We could not support Mr. Lewis for the senate because he represents and would represent national policies which we think injurious to the nation. He did right to vote for the selective draft and he did right to urge the buying of bonds, but we think he is wrong on the national questions now at issue.

The situation is reversed in this election. Mr. Small seeks an office in which his personality and the influences promoting him will be everything and in which Mr. Lewis' national theories would be nothing.

It may not be much of a compliment to Mr. Lewis to prefer him to Mr. Small, but that compliment at least may be paid the copious Democrat.

who is a gracious font of tropes. We do not think the Chicago Tammany will help the state of Illinois any, and if Mr. Small is elected the Chicago Tammany will sit in the state offices as well as in the Chicago, Cook county, and sanitary district offices. That is why we recommend Lewis for governor.

MR. COX BACKS UP.

With a week of the polls Candidate Cox now declares that if elected he will "sit down with the senate and reach an agreement about our going into the league."

We move carefully in interpreting Mr. Cox's carefully worded utterances on the league, but if we get him in this latest statement, he will accept, if elected, any reservations which the new senate insists upon as conditions of ratification.

If this is to be taken for its face value Mr. Cox hereby pledges himself, if required by the senate, to cut out "the heart of the covenant," as Mr. Wilson has called Article X., and swallow any other reservations necessary to get us into the league created by the covenant.

Thus somewhat tardily Mr. Wilson's position is repudiated and we find our Democratic candidate adopting the formula prevalent in Europe, to wit, America "in" on any terms.

Well, Mr. Cox, we think the American people are not for "going in" with you on any terms. They are not for the league of nations devised at Paris by the powers that devised the present peace (sic) of Europe. Mr. Wilson boasted that he would bind up the covenant with the terms of this peace inextricably, and so it was bound and is bound. But the United States is not yet bound and does not propose to be bound.

The covenant was framed to enforce the treaty. With or without reservations its purpose is the same. The personnel of the council which brought forth the covenant or gave it its approval made the terms of peace and it is they who will administer under a new title what they dictated at Paris. The notion that a change of name will alter the nature of this group of grasping imperial contenders is childish.

Mr. Wilson took us into the Paris council and Mr. Cox would have us "go in" with him as guarantors of its decrees. We shall do no such thing. The terms of the peace of Versailles are the foundations of new imperial enterprises covering the globe. They are the terms of a hard victory, imposed upon the conquered in the spirit which Mr. Wilson was allowed to rebuke to the top of his bent so long as his eloquence did not interfere with results. These results—vast booty in Asia Minor, Africa, in China, in the Pacific—we are asked to insure and, under the pretense of keeping the peace of the world, to respect and preserve.

Look at the map and no argument is needed to characterize the peace of Versailles. Review the events since November, 1918, in Austria, the Balkans, Italy, Syria, Mesopotamia, China, and you will need no other illustration of the realities the peace of Versailles with its covenant "lets us in for." Mr. Harding is right when he declares we want no "clarification." The truth is clear enough already, except to sentimentalists and academic theorists. Mr. Harding is right when he says we want no clarification but rejection, for the treaty of Versailles, its harvest of dragon's teeth already showing, and the league devised to support it are not acceptable to the instinct and judgment of the American people.

What America wants is a new deal and it is in a position, Mr. Cox to the contrary notwithstanding, to get it. What Europe needs is a new deal, a review, after the passions of the war have cooled a little and the real elements of the problem have begun to emerge as they have been of late emerging, of the conditions of enduring peace. The distorted expectations and conceptions born of a nightmare of fear and suffering must be put away and peace, built on more lasting foundations. There is no peace in Europe today and no promise of peace in the terms of the treaty which Mr. Cox declares we are bound to support. The hope of a peace we can afford to support lies over the body of the false peace of Versailles.

Harding has made his position as clear as any honest and practical mind requires. He is not for an impossible isolation. He is for international conference and such association as may be evolved for the preservation of peace. But he is not for underwriting the imperial designs of foreign powers.

The best thought in Europe recognizes likewise that the peace of Europe must be remade on wiser lines than were laid down at Versailles. If the United States were foolish enough to accept the appeal of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Cox to underwrite the peace of Versailles, we should block the way to the better peace which our refusal to "go in" has made possible. The futurity of the league has been demonstrated repeatedly even in the short period of its life. Reconstruction in Europe cannot proceed without us. Relations and hostilities born of the war and anti-war politics have weakened. War passion has cooled. All this makes American participation possible, but we shall not "go in" with Mr. Cox as guarantors of the peace of Versailles.

Editorial of the Day

IT CAN BE DONE.

[San Antonio Express.]

Senator Harding addressed a great audience in Baltimore Monday night.

There wasn't a manufactured "thrill" nor a spectacular sensation nor a campaign scandal in or about his entire speech.

He made no personal "charges," and his criticisms, in discussing issues, were mainly constructive. Scarcely more than a column report of his utterances does not reveal that he called anybody a "perjurer," or a "neaking guerrilla," or a partisan "chattel," or "an habitual trickster," or a "corrupter" of electorates.

He took issue with the Democratic candidate on the league covenant, and with the Democratic president on the nonneutrality of the merchant marine act, without ascribing anything shameful or shameful to either Mr. Cox or Mr. Wilson.

He outlined his policies for "the rehabilitation of American economy, and for sound business," without suggesting that anybody be hanged as high as Haman or otherwise be afflicted with vice.

Indeed, about all the Republican candidate found to say was concerned with the present condition and future betterment of the country's industry, commerce, labor, and finance!

No stretch of the imagination could connect his sentiments with a declaration of war by capital against labor, involving the use of the United States army on the side of capital.

Talk, wasn't it? As unlike Mr. Cox's speech in Pittsburgh as granite is unlike chalk.

Nevertheless, notwithstanding, the Americans packed within the Baltimore armory "repeatedly crashed their applause," and the Harding sendoff was an ovation.

Far be it from this comment to suggest that Gov. Cox ask Senator Harding how it is done.

This is merely to take notice that it can be done—the right sort of presidential campaigning.

AN OLIVER OPTIC HERO.

Sir: Evidence is not lacking that the people are at last beginning to appreciate the wisdom of practicing economy. As I was being walked on at a cigar counter an errand boy stepped up. Hastily surveying the gorgeous array of boxes he selected a brand encased in tinfoil, selling for 17 cents each. "These are three for a half," said the young lady attendant, whereupon the youth took three. This disposition to have the pennies wherever possible would seem to be one of the hopeful signs of the times.

[Glasgow Courier North China News.]

I learn that during the King's visit to Rotherham, the Marquis of Bute presented his Majesty with a keg of very old Scotch whisky which has some history attached to it. The tap of the cask is placed in the center, so that it can never be more than half empty, and when necessary the necessary can be renewed by the addition of the oldest and purest Scotch whisky procurable.

WHAT WILL TRAINERS SAY?

THERE is trouble in the offing for the trainers of pugilists, wrestlers, and football players. If their charges get hold of the August number of the Military Surgeon, keeping them on the reservation will be a hard job.

In that magazine Dr. R. M. Culler, an army surgeon, tries to prove that it is a mistake for athletes to train down. On the other hand, their efforts should be directed toward training up.

This is the argument. Whenever we make any violent sustained effort we draw on our nature has saved up. If there is a surplus of stored energy producing food or tissue, the highly developed tissues are spared. If there is no such surplus they are burned. If a business man was getting ready for a financial storm would he begin by checking out his savings and using up his reserve? When a steamboat gets out of coal, do they burn the cargo and then chop up the woodwork for fuel?

A prize fighter loses five or ten pounds during a fight. If he has trained down and then has dried out, where does the loss come from? It must come from highly important tissues. The doctor supports his argument with some illustrations. Frank Gotch had a lot of subcutaneous fat evenly distributed over the surface of his body. When he was a champion he ate and drank what pleased him best and enjoyed himself in legitimate ways. Louis Cyr, who won a prize fight, ate and drank what pleased him best and enjoyed himself in legitimate ways. John L. Sullivan, who held the prize fighting championship for many years, ate a lot and carried a lot of flesh.

The English are champion rowers always. Their rowing teams eat more, play more, and are heavier than other teams. No soldiers on the west front attacked better or resisted more than did the French, and this was in great part because they were well fed. A well fed man will whip an underfed army every time.

Dr. Culler's advice to ordinary folks, engaged in ordinary every day work, is to eat and drink plenty, to keep a little fat rather than be underweight. If they have a severe illness or accident they have some reserve to draw on. The highest potentialities for health and strength are derived from a sane enjoyment of the pleasures of life.

Overwork is impossible if a man eats enough. Dr. Culler thinks. When it comes to exercise, he prefers useful manual labor to games. For example, he thinks William Hobbsenier was wise in sawing wood and his son shows good sense in making horseshoes. Golf would have done them less good.

GOV. COX FIGHT FOR PRESIDENCY

BY ROBERT B. SMITH.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 26.—[Special.] Gov. Cox is back in Ohio again. After speaking early today in West

Port and Kentucky towns, he crossed the Ohio River at Portsmouth, Ohio, and addressed a big crowd gathered out at Portsmouth in the afternoon of rain and then returned to the republican stronghold of Cincinnati, where he spoke to an audience of 6,000 persons, in Music hall. From victory of the G. O. P. he is keenly aware of the danger of Ohio returning to the republic and is indicated by the fact that he will be in the state for a meeting Thursday in Indianapolis and another Saturday at Cincinnati, where he will devote every moment of his time to the contest in Ohio. He is in Cincinnati where there is a large German vote. Gov. Cox advocated the League of Nations as Germany's salvation. He told the crowd that the German people were insisting on Germany's joining the league.

"The German people realize," he said, "that there can be no recovery from the disasters of war unless the burden of armaments is removed and a guarantee against war is established."

He declared also that the league is being opposed by "speculators" who want the United States to intervene in Mexico.

"I am convinced," he said, "that the people of Mexico, impelled by the impulse for good that seems to have possessed that country, will insist upon membership in the league also because they realize that among other interests opposing the covenant in America are the speculators who want to invade that country with the army of the United States in order to remove the hazard which enabled them to purchase large holdings at low cost."

Says Honors at Stake. He asserted that the issue in the present election, boiled down, was nothing less than "whether we will be a nation of honor or a nation of rogues."

"We gave a very definite pledge when we went into the war," he said, "and it must be determined now whether the promise given to our soldiers and their mothers is to be redeemed. I have found that America is not so much concerned in the words we use in keeping our pledge as it is that the meaning be clear and that the only possible step now available be taken to keep out of wars in the future."

At Ashland, Ky., Cox was introduced by Mrs. Robert Dickens, who called him "a modern Moses," who is writing a new code of conduct to govern the nations of the world.

Wants No "Normalcy."

At Ashland, Ky., Gov. Cox said: "You boys don't want any more normalcy," adding, "that normalcy meant a full dinner pail and little more."

Gov. Cox declared that Democrats had brought eight years of "widespread prosperity."

Gov. Cox praised ex-President Taft, saying Taft had forecast the fact that labor and women voters would favor the league of nations.

Ex-Marine Commandant To Tell of Haiti Killings. Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—Brig. Gen. "I TOLD YOU SO,"

G. O. P. COMMENT ON BOURGEOIS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Republicans are jubilant and administration leaders visibly downcast over the statement given to the press in Brussels yesterday by M. Bourgeois, president of the council of the league of nations, that article XI could be eliminated from the league of nations covenant without impairing it.

Republicans see in the statement from such an eminent authority a complete vindication of the position of Senator Harding on the league of nations issue and of the attitude of the Republicans from the beginning against the provisions of article XI.

President Wilson and members of the cabinet are believed to have discussed M. Bourgeois' important statement on the eve of the American election at a cabinet meeting held late this afternoon, but no official comment came from the White House concerning it.

At the state department officials declared that M. Bourgeois was "not in a position to absolve the signatories from their responsibilities."

GERMANY SENDS

ALLIES COPIES OF 10 NEW TREATIES

PARIS, Oct. 26.—The German government, somewhat to the surprise of the council of the league of nations, has sent to the league offices in London ten treaties or diplomatic agreements entered into by Germany with various powers since Jan. 10, it was learned here today.

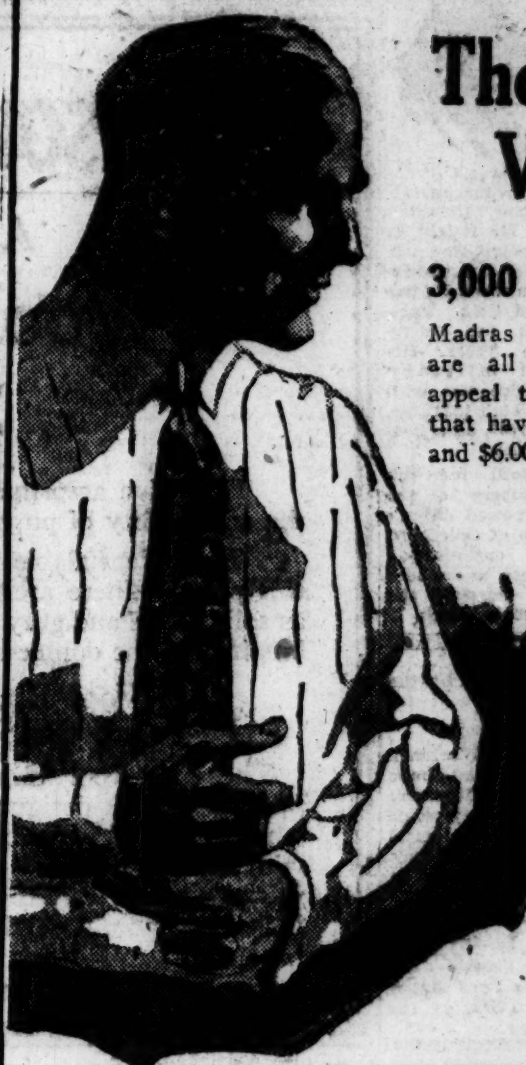

This step was taken in consequence of the circular invitation sent to all the governments of all the world, except that of Soviet Russia, by order of the league council at its meeting in Rome in March last.

The league of nations now has thirty-six treaties, among which are fifteen sent in by Great Britain. Belgium has not yet complied with the request of the league for the text of the Belgian military convention with France.

QUALITY IS THE BASIS OF TRIBUNE ADVERTISING

COMMON LABOR
KEEPS EXPERTS
HERE GUESSING

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

The common labor market is an enigma to the employment experts. In the Chicago area of Canal and Madison streets the shops are well filled with workers. Yet the job agencies report that good men are not easy to get. The type that comes back to the harvest fields in the fall, filling in the gaps with their hands in the mines or on the railroads, is increasing numbers before the season ends. Most of them, it appears, wait until they are down to their boots before they seek remuneration. They represent one phase of labor's element that makes for the cities for a sniff of urban life as fast as it piles up a stake. "The velvet makes it possible," said the manager of one of the largest agencies. "When the track or woods laborer got $1.50 or $2 a day it took him a couple of months to accumulate a sizeable stake to blow in. When he gets $4.50 or $5 a day he can save a stake in a few weeks and then light out for the city for a time."

Most of them stick around, flirting with the lovely twins, Ethyl and Methyl, and corroding the fillings in their teeth with the stuff obtainable at the drug store barrooms near by until their roll is gone. Stick around and get a earful."

Applicants Mostly Broke.

The observer stood at the counter for half an hour, in the course of which some forty men asked concerning jobs. Only three said they could pay the $1 fee in cash; the other thirty-seven said they were flat broke and it would have to come out of the pay envelope.

"More than 70 per cent of them wait until they are busted before seeking jobs," commented the manager.

Meanwhile the absorptive power of the labor market excites much comment. Despite slackening employment in many directions, the staidier class of common labor is reported scarce for out of town jobs. In the building industry in Chicago, where laborers have an $8 day, contractors have had an abundance of men for months, due to curtailed activities, but there is no glut of applicants for construction jobs, outside and railroad jobs, and logging jobs at 40 or 50 cents an hour. This is in the face of growing unemployment, and it is ascribed to the great numbers of men soaked up by the great road building activities going on in most states. In addition to the army of labor working on the roads many others are engaged in making road material.

Railroads Employ More.

Then, too, the railroads are starting to put more laborers on their rights of way, track repairing, while the iron and steel industry, which a few months ago was hampered by common labor scarcity, has been taking men on, and now finds a considerable easing of the unskilled labor situation. In general, too, conditions have been tightened up by workers who have settled down into steadier employment, discerning a prospect of growing unemployment in the next few months.

Turnover, or the jumping from job to job, is materially decreasing in all directions. This naturally makes for increased efficiency and theoretically

GERMANY SEEKS TO REGAIN ITS DYE SUPREMACY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—The text of a German government decree practically socializing the production of coal tar in that country was received tonight in official advices. Indications that Germany was planning to regain her pre-war supremacy in dyestuffs was seen in the decree by chemical experts of the government.

Complete control of the distribution of raw materials for refining coal tar is given to a German union representing all branches of industry. Employers and employees in the production, refining, trade, and distributing branches of the industry are represented in equal numbers and the government by the minister of economics, empowered to protest against such decisions as seem contrary to public welfare.

Regulation of the coal tar trade and economic questions concerning crude coal tar are placed under the jurisdiction of the union as well as the supervision of exports and imports and price fixing.

Over One Thousand Chicago
Homes Burn Oil Instead of Coal

Three years ago leading heating experts said that oil was the logical successor to coal for home heating. Today thousands of home owners all over the country—who are burning oil—know that it is.

Over one thousand Chicago homes have eliminated the dirt, the ashes, the soot, and the work caused by coal.

The trouble, the mess, the work that your furnace caused you last winter, is still fresh in your mind. Coal was the trouble-maker.

Why go through this all over again?

Three years ago you might have hesitated. You wanted to hear what people who had gone through a winter's experience with NOKOL would say. But today there are one thousand homes in Chicago where you can see with your own eyes how NOKOL works.

No early rising on cold winter mornings to fire up; no banking the fire at night; no ashes and clinkers; no coal soot. And electrically controlled—you don't go near your basement. Set the thermostat at the temperature most ideal for health and comfort, and this temperature is automatically maintained. With coal the temperature is constantly varying—with NOKOL you have uniform temperature at all times.

Cold weather will be here soon. Don't wait for it—come to our show room now and see NOKOL in operation; see the simplicity of it—the ease, the cleanliness, the comfort of automatic oil heating. See the volume of our daily sales.

A small payment will put NOKOL in your home, and convenient terms can be arranged. Fits any type of furnace. Approved by the National Board of Underwriters.

STRONG LINE MEN CAN SWING GAME; WIN FOR HARVARD

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Value of a line in offensive and defensive football was demonstrated more forcibly in the Harvard-Centre college game at Cambridge last Saturday than in any other contest decided this year. In that struggle the secondary defense was too close in to assist the forward wall in the first half. The result was a successful execution of several forward passes. During the intermission, Coach Fisher instructed the secondary defense to play back regardless of gains made through the line. At the same time he emphasized the importance of the forwards outplaying their opponents.

Turning Point of Game. That this defensive change had a lot to do with deciding the issue was apparent from the beginning of play in the third quarter until the final whistle. The Crimson line was realized the added importance which had been placed upon their play, and they performed in even better fashion than in the opening periods. Football coaches and players in the middle west would do well to follow this style of defensive play adopted by Harvard. There has been too much aggressiveness shown by defending players to run up to assist the line. A team piloted by a smart player will immediately take advantage of such tactics and shoot forward passes in every direction.

One Bit of Bad Football. There was, however, a bad piece of football shown by Harvard in this game. It appears that Quarter Back McMillin started to run around one of the Crimson ends. Realizing he was cornered, the Centre college star wheeled and ran around the other end for a substantial gain.

This is the sort of football expected to be seen between two prize elevens, but McMillin got away with it because the Harvard end on the side from which the play started, failed to follow around behind the Centre line. If he had done so, McMillin would have been nailed for a loss.

The Harvard end who failed to execute one of the cardinal points of end play undoubtedly was reminded by Coach Fisher, but the point should be emphasized by every coach.

Must Follow the Play. In these days of football, when criss-crosses and triple passes are used, not to mention delayed formations from which line plunges and end runs are sprung, the ends must follow the play around when it goes the opposite direction.

In a number of the larger games played in the middle west this year, ends have failed to cover kicks properly. In many cases they have permitted the kicker to get outside, instead of driving him in between, so that a teammate can tackle the runner in case either the kicker or player missed his kick. It is too late in the season for such blunders to happen, and a player cannot be rated a first class end if he permits this sort of error.

Beardie's Great Catch. Assistant Coach Harlow of Penn State, who scouted Nebraska in the South Dakota game, asserted that Coach Hugo Beardie, the former Chicago star, is one of the greatest end coaches he has ever seen in his ten years of coaching. He asserted he has coached under Bill Hollenback of Pennsylvania, and Charley Brickley of Harvard, but neither placed the emphasis on wing play that Beardie does.

Harlow asserted Beardie made Higgins an all-American end last year by constant drilling in cardinal points of end play. Like other ends, Higgins failed to follow behind an opposing line, and he permitted catchers of punts to get around him early in the season. At the close of the season Higgins was rated the best flank player in the country by all critics.

Maroon Ends Well Groomed. Illinois and Chicago ends can be relied upon to play their positions properly. Stagg and Zupke always have been sticklers for cardinal points of play in any position, especially that of the ends. Coach Williams of Minnesota, who has developed wonderful extremity men at Minnesota, is another mentor who makes sure his ends know all the fine points of the position.

CRIPPLES BACK AT ENGLEWOOD

Englewood High school followers noted with relief the return of the team's crippled to full form yesterday. During Saturday's Hyde Park game Pull Back Vickers was suffering from an infected heel and the effects of an injection of anti-tetanus serum, while Gentry played with a sprained ankle in a support and Stevens carried a brace for a bad wrist.

Strand, big guard, and Quarter Poles also had missed several days at school the preceding week. For future games the team is expected to display full strength.

Proviso Opens Ticket Sale for Marblehead Game

Students at Proviso High have undertaken an extensive ticket selling campaign for the big game of the year at Maywood, when Marblehead High of Massachusetts plays on the west suburban field in return for Proviso's trip to the Bay State last autumn. Permanent bleachers are being erected on the school grounds at Madison street and First avenue, and the towns of Maywood, Forest Park, River Forest, and Melrose Park are being canvassed to muster a throng of 5,000 or 6,000 at the intersection clash Nov. 13.

Lane Tech Begins Spring Track Team Selections

Lane Tech has divided its personnel of 3,800 boys into twenty-seven drill companies for the purpose of selecting next spring's track men. The scheme, which was carried into action by instructor Max Straus and Coach Rothe and Umbright, is to pick two boys from each company, in elimination trials, for each event, and finally reduce this field to ten, from whom the school track and field entries will be named.

GASOLINE ALLEY—DOC IS A FIRST CLASS TROUBLE SHOOTER

STAGG DRILLS SQUAD IN RUNNING ATTACK FOR CRUCIAL GAMES

Coach Stagg worked new backfield combinations for several hours last night through the drizzling rain, in an effort to bolster up his running attack. In the two conference games played the Maroons have won by taking advantage of fumbles and errors by their opponents, and by skillful use of the forward pass at strategic moments.

In neither game did the Maroons show power in a running attack that looked anything like what a championship team should possess, and now that the critical games are coming on Coach Stagg realizes he must have greater speed and more driving strength.

New Plays Are Tried.

A scrimmage that was little more than a mud slinging contest because the practice field was so gummy from the heavy rains, and a rehearsal of new plays was the program of the day. The general improvement of Tatge after his uncertain start, makes him look like a strong possibility for regular quarter back.

Crisler worked again at half back, and it is probable he will stay there, with Bobbie Cole at the other half, and Hanisch and Palmer, alternating at full back. Rouse and Nott, half backs who were kept out of the Iowa game with injuries, ran signals last night.

Buckeyes Drill in Mud.

Columbus, O., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—The Wisconsin practiced on a rain-soaked field tonight with the aid of four large spotlights. There was no let up throughout the drill and the hard work which Coach Wilce outlined for his men.

Wilce gave particular attention to the line, which showed to disadvantage in some points against the Badgers. Henderson worked in at quarter back and handled the team well. He may be used to replace Workman in case anything happens to Wilce's new star.

ILLINOIS.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Kopp, captain of the 1919 Illinois, is a recruit for Zupke's fighting gang. Kopp was rendered eligible by the decision which put Robert of Chicago and Kopp's return into the lineup.

Kopp retired from full back last year in favor of Ray Jack Grange and was sidelined until the second half of the championship game at Ohio. With Grange crippled, Kopp stepped into the breach and materially aided the winning of the championship. His return gives Zupke another reliable back field man.

Tonight the Illinois worked in the rain again, but it was a welcome change from the hot weather. Doc Williams' favorite shifts were practiced and much time spent in strengthening the Illinois attack.

MINNESOTA.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Another still left of scrimmage was handed the Minnesota regular this afternoon and because of the ideal football weather, Dr. Williams kept his men working until 7 o'clock. He has been trying out some new men at the end positions and has so

Woods and Waters' FUR SUPPLY DIMINISHING.

THERE is no more virgin trapping territory on the American continent and the supply of fur bearing animals in settled and semi-settled communities is swiftly reaching the vanishing point. The seriousness of the situation may be better understood by the action of Alaska in putting a closed season on her two principal fur bearers: beavers are protected until 1923 and marten and sea otter until 1925.

Alaska, which a few years ago was considered an inexhaustible store house of fur, has put other restrictions on trapping. Alaska is not the only part of the north country to take measures to protect fur bearers. Practically all of the Canadian provinces have shortened their seasons and have passed other regulations to conserve fur.

With these conditions obtaining in what has always been referred to as the "fur country," one can well imagine what has taken place in more settled regions. The mania for fur garments and the extravagance in buying them for the last few years has boosted raw fur prices to unheard of heights, and the whole country has been woefully overtrapped.

As a result drastic measures are being taken to prevent our common fur bearers from extermination. Wisconsin has shut down on mink and muskrats, and New York has shortened the muskrat season, similar action will no doubt be taken by other states when their legislatures convene this coming winter.

Working on Line.

McDevitt realizes, however, that his fresh opponents have no men in their back field of the caliber of Williams, Kyle, and Mathys, all of whom took big holes in the Purple front wall of last year, and hence he is bending every effort to build up a line that will hold these men.

The loss of Dahl has been met satisfactorily by the substitution of Ole Magnuson, a fighting tackle with 210 pounds to keep him from blowing away. It is almost impossible, however, to find an end who knows as much about the game as Bud Turner, now languishing on the side lines with a convalescing knee. All the other men are in the best condition.

The freshmen team elected its captain last night, Halback William (Bo) McElwain, former Evanston High school player, being the choice.

INDIANA.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Characterizing the practice as the worst this season, Head Coach Jumbo Steinhilber did not mince words today in telling the Indiana team of its shortcomings. The freshmen were the worst offenders. The freshmen were the worst offenders. The freshmen were the worst offenders.

WISCONSIN.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—The Badgers have not started real hard work, but are still taking things rather easy until they get back into the routine after the grueling game with the Buckeyes. A light workout with the signal practice was the program for today for the varsity. The second team, however, scrimmaged the freshmen.

The team in the Wisconsin schedule comes at a most opportune time, for Coach Richards will need all of the two weeks' period to get his team into shape to meet the Gophers. The extent of injuries is not definitely known, but Sundt, Weston, Tebell, and Holmes are unable to be at practice at present.

M'DEVIIT SEEKS TO STRENGTHEN PURPLE LINE FOR HOOSIERS

Purple grid men yesterday continued their grinding preparation for the game with the Hoosiers at Indianapolis Saturday. Coach McDevitt decided that one week was sufficient for rest and recuperation from minor injuries received in the Badger contest, and as a result the Northwestern eleven is being driven hard and fast.

The usual scrimmage with the yearlings was held on a wet, soggy field, which made the play slow, but gave the varsity an advantage because of its superior weight. Freshman Coach Edler, who has witnessed Coach Steinhilber's men in action several times this year, used Hoosier plays against the varsity line, but was unable to make ground.

'GERMANY' SCHULZ TO BRING TULANE TO HIS OLD BATTLING GROUND

New Orleans, La., Oct. 26.—Football fans of the west recall "Germany" Schulz, the bulky star of Michigan's team of several years ago. Schulz is now chief athletic officer at Tulane university in New Orleans and he will return to his old battling ground this week in charge of the Tulanians, who play University of Michigan at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Another well remembered westerner is Clark Shaugnessy, Tulane coach, who starred with Minnesota a few seasons ago.

The Tulanians are making the most extensive trip ever made by a southern football team. After playing Michigan they go to New York and then by boat to Tampa, Fla., to play the Florida U.

The team will go to Ann Arbor intact. Members of the student body made up a purse to send twenty-four players, who leave tomorrow morning.

No sensible man wants to pay more than necessary for good clothes

The question is, how much is "necessary" for all wool, bench made, silk-sewn, correctly styled clothes?

The answer is, the lowest price at which you can buy them.

One thing is certain, you will not be buying at the lowest price if you contribute to the support of middlemen.

We are makers of strictly high grade all-wool, hand-tailored clothes for men and young men, and we sell them direct to you without one cent of tribute to the middlemen.

FRANKLIN NOSES OUT NELSON IN THRILLING FINISH IN CUE PLAY

BY JOE DAVIS.

In a thrilling finish Walter Franklin of Kansas City, nosed out Orville Nelson of Rochester, N. Y., in the second night game of the National pocket tournament.

The count was 125 to 121 in favor of the Missourian, in twenty-six innings. It was easily the best game of the series.

Nelson in the nineteenth inning put the high run mark up to 49, beating Matur's run by 8 points. He missed a side pocket shot. Score: NELSON—0 0 6 4 0 2 16 so so 0 7 so 4 5 0 9 1 7 so 49 3 0 18 1 0 2—125. Scratch: 2, forfeit, 2. Total, 121. High run, 49; innings, 26.

Score: Safford, 125; forfeit, 7; total, 125; high run, 26; innings, 30. Rudolf, 82; forfeit, 7; total, 82; high run, 26; innings, 30.

In the Wake of the News

EARLIER CHICAGO.

ON the morning of Oct. 11, 1871, a crowd of fifteen or twenty of us men and boys tramped up to the second or third story of a building opposite Crane Bros. Manufacturing company on Jefferson street, between Lake and Randolph, to get some of the first Tinseltown published after the fire.

Mr. Chisholm, a reporter for THE JUST OUT-TRIMMING.

ONE of the Wake's neighbors recently ordered an evening gown of the prevailing mode. While trying it on before a mirror, little Howard, aged 3, wandered into the room, and in great surprise, said, "Muthy, muthy, wy that deas, goin' to take a bath?"

John, the Egg Man. A True Story.

John, the Egg Man, owns a farm on which he raises chickens. But he is a very careless farmer. He raises apples, peaches, grapes. He raises hops and rye. But grapes are not for grape-juice used for apples raised for sale.

From hops and malt, he brews fine beer. His grapes make rich red wine. His apples make fine applejack. And so on down the line.

So John, the Egg Man, on his farm is growing fat and healthy. And from the sale of eggs and chicks (?) Each day becomes more wealthy.

Prospects of an ultimate amicable arrangement were brightened by the announcement of President Johnson that he expected to attend the meeting of the minor league association in Kansas City on Nov. 9, at which the Laker-Austrian plan will be discussed.

END TO FACTION FIGHT IN AMERICAN LEAGUE IS BELIEVED IN SIGHT

BY L. E. SANBORN.

One significant incident of the final session of the Cook county grand jury's investigation of professional baseball was an accidental meeting yesterday between President Johnson of the American league and Alfred Austrian, attorney for Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, in the office of Chief Justice McDonald.

For nearly an hour Messrs. Johnson and Austrian were in close contact during the time Arnold Rothstein, the New York gambler, was on the stand before the grand jury, and their only associate in the confab was Rothstein's personal attorney.

As a result of this clash a better understanding of the situation is expected to eventuate between the antagonistic factions of the American league.

It was discovered that the two factions were not antagonistic to the fundamental of the plan to reorganize baseball, but that the tentative draft, generally ascribed to Mr. Austrian, would need copious revision before it would be acceptable to the other five American league club owners and also to the minor leagues, several of whose presidents have already expressed their disapproval of any arrangement which gave the minors no voice whatever in the formation of the new governing body.

The disclosures before the grand jury yesterday are expected to put an entirely new face on the proposition, and there is no doubt of the action to be taken by the "loyal" five American league club owners at their conference here later in the week.

With the report of the grand jury almost certain to be returned before Nov. 8 the lone objection of President Johnson and the five American league club owners to meeting the National league in conference probably will be removed.

Prospects of an ultimate amicable arrangement were brightened by the announcement of President Johnson that he expected to attend the meeting of the minor league association in Kansas City on Nov. 9, at which the Laker-Austrian plan will be discussed.

Hereafter Cornell Will Row According to Hoyle

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Appointment of John Hoyle as head coach of the Cornell crew to succeed the late Charles E. Courtney, whom he assisted for twenty-one years, was announced today by the Cornell athletic council.

Hoyle came to Cornell in 1899 from Philadelphia, where he had been engaged in boat building, and doing his service here constructed every shell used by variety and freeman crews.

Cornell crews will retain the famous Courtney stroke and continue to follow the same rowing methods.

Southpaw Attack of Tendler Carries Defeat to Welling

BY RAY FEARSON.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—Joe Welling took his turn at trying to solve the mysterious southpaw attack of that demon Quaker City guy, Law Tendler, in the big Auditorium arena tonight and fell considerably short of his mark, running to second position in a battle that required little thinking to reach this decision.

Tendler's left mitt was the one that did the business, for he had no trouble in connecting with Welling's head and body, but he didn't forget that he carried a right hand, for he slapped several good punches to the head with his right. In the ninth round he had Joe bleeding from the mouth and in the tenth he had Welling spilling a little trickle of claret from the nose. Joe was holding on at this stage, for this southpaw wallop was making a punching finish of the bout.

Slow at First; Warned.

Welling failed to measure up to the job in hand because Tendler worked too fast for him, but it should be stated here that it wasn't a scrap to excite anybody until after the third round. Chairman Litinger of the commission didn't seem to like the way they were mauling each other without damage at close quarters in the early round and Referee Houlihan halted the bout in the third and warned both that they would have to work up more energy.

The battlers followed instructions all right, but being properly stirred up, Tendler went out and made things unpleasant for Welling, who had no luck in connecting with his right cross, the punch with which he had hoped to score a victory over the Quaker City fellow. Joe did manage to poke over a couple of swats, but they didn't disturb Law in the least and the latter simply speeded up to inflict further punishment.

Welling Is Overweight.

Seven of the ten rounds were even. There was only one round in which it looked as if the finish might come. That was in the eighth, when Welling seemed a bit weary after a terrific mauling on the ropes, but Joe clung on and stuck along nicely.

Welling was half a pound overweight at weighing in time, 2 o'clock in the afternoon. He weighed 135½ pounds, while Tendler weighed in at 134½.

Boxers' Purse Held.

Investigation of the bout was ordered by Chairman Walter Litinger of the Wisconsin boxing commission immediately after the fight. Pending the inquiry the club was ordered not to pay the fighters.

Frank Mulken entered the ranks of de luxe promoters by staging tonight's attraction. There were few seats vacant, thanks to the visit of a considerable number of Chicago fans. While official figures were not given out, the house was worth between $21,000 and $22,000. That gave Mulken and his club a neat profit.

Frankie Schmalzer of Milwaukee

Presented Other Promoters.

The promptness with which Rickard, Mulken and Brady acted in perfecting arrangements for clinching the bout was occasioned, it is believed, by numerous promoters who were hoveled about with all sorts of fabulous Curley and Harry Frazee were urged to offer a hitherto unheard amount for a ring contest, while wealthy Cuban syndicate was also with tempting offers. Tom McKenna, the veteran manager, was asked to offer $100,000.

Many Suggested as Referee.

When the subject of a referee was discussed, several names were suggested. Jim Jeffries and Jim Corbett were mentioned. Among others were Mike Roche, Ed McFarland, Bill Brown, Marty McCue, and Jimmy

Pal Moore in 8 Rounds

Louis, Mo., Oct. 26.—Pal Moore, champion and Jay Lynch of New York, fought eight rounds to a draw tonight, Moore's holding cost him the decision, as he carried the fight the opponent, virtually the entire round. The announced weights were Moore, 116, and Lynch, 119.

to the game when the Reds won with over pitching, and attributed it to their failure to pay the amounts originally offered.

They need a pool of $25,000 for players, and Redmond was asked contribute $5,000. He refused, but bet on the Reds to win the series, a prophecy his losses, he said.

NO BET

New Yorker Called Here in Baseball Scandal Just Won't Discuss the Romance of Gambling.

ARNOLD ROTHSTEIN.
(Tribune Photo.)

NAY, SPEAK NOT OF GAMBLING TO MR. ROTHSTEIN!

Carefully Shades His Aura of Romance.

Mr. Arnold Rothstein, known to sporting folk of Gotham as a gambler, was interviewed yesterday.

Small and agile is Mr. Rothstein. His clothes are noiseless and neat. He regards the world with shrewd, narrow eyes. During the 1919 world series he lost $50,000, which accounts in part for the fact that he appeared before our grand jury during the afternoon.

"Mr. Rothstein—a humble scribe speaking—about the person of a high stakes plunger there hangs the aura of romance. The public ever avid for tales of Wallingfordian legenddom, yearns to hear the story of your adventures in cash. It longs—"

"A Ready Man, He Says.
"I believe the phone is ringing."
In a moment he had returned.

"Now, regarding your career as a gambler—"

"I am now," spoke Mr. Rothstein,
"in the real estate business."
Yes, yes, of course. But we are losing sight of the romantic aura.

"What was the largest pot you ever won?"

"Vindicated, He Opines.
A poker game regarded the interviewer for the barest instant, then—
"I believe I vindicated myself before the grand jury," quoth Mr. Rothstein.

"The sport of kings had a glamorous day, but alas—" here the scribe essayed a tear—"it is now departed glory. Ah, many a nag has skidded about the track with a thousand dollars hanging on his every hoofbeat.
You've cleaned up a fortune in a single afternoon, no doubt?"

"Abolishing of horse racing was largely responsible for baseball gambling," replied Mr. Rothstein evenly.

The interviewer, in a daze, assailed the NYA's ear in one last frantic effort. Only the thought of those gentle readers, so hungry for romance, gave him strength to go on.

Speaks Not of Winning.
"How much money, in the aggregate, have you won in your career?"
he asked.

"A frightfully dark and dismal day,
don't it?" returned Mr. Rothstein.
The reporter rushed forth to interview the Sphinx.

TOINETTE'S SONG OF SONGS MAY BE HER REQUIEM

Police Seeking Man Who Deserted Her.

There is no hope for Toinette, the doctors say. She may die today or tomorrow. She cannot live very long, for she is suffering from poison.

And Toinette wants so much to live.

"Not for myself so much," she said last night.
"Life has been bitter to me—
sweet sometimes,
but mostly bitter.
Not so much for myself as for the baby. I want it to be born. I long to hold it in my arms. And I am afraid—so afraid!"

TOINETTE SJOBER.

Thought Poison Was Medicine.
"I did not know I was drinking poison. I did not try to commit suicide.
Please believe me. I did not. I mistook the tablets for medicine."

"You see, I was to be married to Howard Chipley. It was to be a little more than two weeks from today. I was quite happy, for I love him madly.
Something came over me suddenly Saturday morning. I can't describe it.
But somehow I knew that the wedding would never be."

"I called up the Elmo hotel where he lived. He had gone away Wednesday, I was told. I called up the firm for whom he worked. He had resigned, to go to Memphis."

"So I was feeling bitter Saturday night and I cried till my head was splitting and I thought I should go blind."

Knows End Is Near.
"That's how I made the mistake—how I came to take the poison. I did not know I had taken them, until afterwards. And because I did not know, there is little hope for me."

ToINETTE—her last name is Sjober, and she is a widow—looked wistfully
at the doctor.

"Can't you make me live until my child is born?"

The doctor laughed and told her not to worry.

"Oh, I'd like to see Howard once more, before it is too late. Do you think he will come? I think I could die almost happy if he were with me—at the end."

"She lived with her mother, Mrs.
Anna Herranb, at 4553 Indiana avenue. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Chipley."

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELIN'?

PACKERS OFFER "VOTING TRUST" FOR STOCKYARDS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 26.—[Special.]—The Chicago packers' substitute plan was submitted to the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia today.

Under the new proposal F. H.
Prince & Co. of Boston, who were to have organized a holding company in which the packers were to have retained minority interest, will organize a syndicate to be known as the United Stockyards, Inc.

This would take over outright all stock of the stockyards and terminal facilities of the packers and transfer all the stock of the new company to five trustees to be selected by the court. This proposed voting trust would run for twenty years.

The department of justice, which objected to the original proposal, asked until Nov. 8 to consider the new one thoroughly. The hearing was set for Nov. 18.

The department of justice said officially the plan "contemplates that the packers are to part forever with all ownership of stockyards and that the cattle producers are to have the first opportunity to buy this stock of the corporation that will take over the packers' interests in the yards. In these respects it would seem to be a distinct improvement over the first plan."

DALRYMPLE OUT, RUMORS SAY, BUT MAJOR SAYS NO

Rumors that Maj. A. V. Dalrymple, prohibition enforcement officer, was to resign, circulated through Chicago yesterday. The rumors, inspired by dispatches from Washington, caused considerable excitement until it was learned they were untrue. Maj. Dalrymple said last night he had not resigned, and did not intend to do so. He said he had no idea how the report originated.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

A recent political paragraph in THE TRIBUNE reported that Mrs. Ray S.
Jenkins, 814 Cornelia avenue, was president of a nonpartisan club of women of the north side supporting Frank S. Righelmer for county judge.

Mrs. Jenkins writes that she has no nonpartisan affiliations, but is a staunch Republican and treasurer of the Regular Twenty-fifth Ward Women's Republican club.

A contribution of $500 to the Republi-tor.

A page of pictures in the rotogravure section for Sunday, Oct. 17, was erroneously headed "Baby Animals in the New York Zoo." The photographs were so described by the International Film Service, which supplied them, but it develops that they were not, as a matter of fact, taken in New York.

ARRESTS CHECK HALE GANG RAIDS IN OTHER CITIES

The Hale gang, comprising eight men and two women, having committed about sixty robberies in Chicago in the last two weeks, was just about to extend its scope, the police say, when arrested. Plans had been made for bandit campaigns in Detroit, Cleveland, Toledo, and other cities. It is declared, and members of the gang who have gone to those cities as advance agents are being sought.

Judge David released four of the eight men last night on writs of habeas corpus; Paul Labriola, 1121 South Ashland avenue; John Russo, 215 Taylor street, and Charles Veith and Frank Vecci, owners of a saloon at Van Bu-ron street and Winchester avenue.

William Barry, bartender at this saloon, the Hale brothers, John and Eddie, and George Williams are being held. They have been identified by nearly fifty victims of holdup men, and thirty-five watches found in their possession have been restored to their owners.

The police also are holding Helen Paschen, 4330 Shields avenue, sweetheart of Eddie Hale, who made her appearance after a month of married life, and Alice Smith, 1758 Ogden avenue,
sweetheart of Williams.

Detective Sergeants Charles Essig, Frank Smith, Thomas Piper, and Charles Weiling, who made the arrests and recovered "a bushel of watches, stickpins, rings, and bracelets," were complimented last night by Chief of Police Garrity and Detec-

"Unable to Live on $1.35 a Day," Drills Gas Pipe, Dies

William Krause, 60 years old, saw nothing worth while in life. He worked for the Fingerhuth Patrol agency, receiving $1.35 a day, and lived in one little room at 246 Concord place. He was a widower. A few days ago he borrowed a drill. Yesterday he drilled a hole in the gas pipe—though he could have turned on the jet—and sat down to write a letter. He died before he had finished. The letter told of his troubles, his inability to live on $1.35 a day, and his desire to "see the dear wife again."

EXPORT DEMAND BOOSTS GRAINS; WHEAT UP 10C

By Charles D. Michaels.

Trade in grains broadened, with wheat well in the lead, and prices were on the upgrade most of the day, the close being at nearly the outside with gains of 10c on wheat, 1 1/2c on corn, 1 1/2c on oats, 1/2c on rye, and 4c on barley. Lead gained 20c to 47 1/2c and short ribs 6c.

The impetus was the large export demand for wheat and corn.

Heavy buying of wheat to cover short interest with a turning from the bear to the bull side of the market by a number of local traders, and heavy buying by houses with seaboard connections, made a strong and advancing market for wheat, with more outside trade. Prices moved up nearly 10c to 12 1/2c for December, with the close 1/2c under the top.

Most of the reports from the southwest said country offerings of wheat were light and the movement showed a good decrease from week ago and a reduction from last year. Selling pressure was light and as prices moved up sentiment appeared more favorable to the buying side. Winnipeg said the northwestern markets advanced nearly as fast as Chicago and held the greater part. Great Britain and France have taken a large quantity of the Indian wheat for January and February shipment at 11 1/2c.

Corn Out of Rat.

Corn gave a better account of itself with the export buying and the advance in wheat a leading stimulant, which lifted the market out of the rut. Selling pressure was light, except for a time at the opening, and prices moved up from 8 1/2c to 10 1/2c for December, with the close near the top. Strength in the cash market, with prices 1c to 1 1/2c higher, premiums 1 1/2c higher, and light receipts of 143 cars, had a bullish influence. Industries did little, but offerings were absorbed by shippers. Unsettled weather was a factor and it continued to check receipts.

Sellers of oats on Monday were buyers yesterday, particularly at the opening, when offerings were absorbed. Houses with eastern connections were good buyers and a better market was experienced, with an advance of 1 1/2c and closed at the top. Cash prices were sharply higher, with receipts 80 cars.

Seaboard houses were good buyers of rye, McKenna Dickey leading. Cash prices were 3c to 4c higher, with 20,000 bu sold for export at 25c over Chicago. December, track New York. Barley was wanted by exporters and industries and feeders took a little more interest, with a firmer attitude to both cash and futures.

Sharp Advance in Provisions.

Active buying of January lard and ribs, with lighter offerings and a sharp advance, was a feature of the provision trade. Another was the increased offerings of October and November by holders anxious to realize; October lost 20c, while the January gained 6 1/2c. Cash trade was lighter, with 100,000 lbs of lard sold and 150,000 lbs delivered. Prices follow:

FLOUR TRADE LIGHT

Flour millers and jobbers say trade is slow to pieces. A few of the big bakers have good stocks that cost materially higher prices than at present, while a majority of the bakers and jobbers have light supplies and are running on the hand to mouth policy. Millers are not satisfied with the reduction of 20c in the differential ocean rate to be over what rates on export flour, as they want an even break. It is possible, however, that millers who are anxious to do business will be satisfied with the new differential.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

The 11c advance in wheat yesterday was more than those who favored the buying side expected. It showed the oversold condition of the market, as stop order covering was on at $2.07 1/2 for December. Several strong operators turned to the bull side and considerable foreign buying of an investment character was noticeable. A great deal of buying by houses with seaboard connections was thought to be against export business, which in reality was for local trade. A moderate advance is looked for.

Wheat traders are not so bullish, although the heavy covering left the market in a position where it is not in shape to stand any heavy selling. The trade is watching for a leading factor. A member of one of the largest cash houses, who has been bullish, said: "When you can sell more wheat in a day than you can buy in a week, what is the use of being bullish?"

Export business in corn was the largest of the season. While there were no confirmations, there were claims of 700,000 to 1,000,000 bu being sold for export, Belgium taking 700,000 bu. There is only one corn house in the trade that has a stock of corn sufficient to permit large sales and it was not reporting any, while those who did the buying were not talking. A few of the big local traders have become bullish on the belief that prices are low compared with the past.

Minneapolis had its first car of new corn yesterday. It had 22 1/2 per cent of moisture and inspected sample grade. It came from Tarkenton, S. D.

Contract stocks of corn in Chicago decreased 153,000 bu last week and are 1,840,000 bu. Contract oats increased 445,000 bu and are 3,263,000 bu.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Report sales of wheat in all positions in the last few days aggregate 2,000,000 bu, including 700,000 bu to Manitoba to Russia. Within two days 700,000 bu, and some claim 1,000,000 bu, have been sold for export, including 250,000 bu to white sea and 42,000 bu to Holland. The rate was 10c over Chicago for white and 10 1/2c over for mixed corn, c. i. f. Buffalo. Export sales of rye were 100,000 bu in all positions at 23c over Chicago for white and 10c over for first half November leading.

Domestic sales of wheat were 15,000 bu, corn 100,000 bu, oats 22,000 bu. Charters were for 850,000 bu like to 2c lower on red winter, unchanged to 1c higher on hard winter, unchanged for spring. Receipts on Chicago were 11c to 13c over, with No. 1 northern 2c to 1c over, depending on quality. Minneapolis was unchanged for choice to 2c higher on lightest wintering. St. Louis 3c to 4c higher on red and 7c higher on hard winter. Omaha 5c to 11c higher, Kansas City 5c to 7c higher.

Corn was bought mainly by shipping and elevator interests, with Chicago 1c to 4c higher and premiums up 1 1/2c, with the close 3c over for mixed, 4c for yellow, and 5c over for December for white. St. Louis 1c to 2c higher on yellow and steady to 1c lower on white. Omaha unchanged. Kansas City 1c to 2c higher, yellow leading. Peoria 2c to 3c higher. Receipts at Chicago, 143 cars.

Data was 3 1/2c to 1 1/2c higher, with receipts 80 cars. St. Louis advanced 1c to 1 1/2c. Omaha 1 1/2c to 1 1/2c higher.

After a break of $2.50@3.00 in less than ten days the decline in hogs was checked yesterday, prices reacting 10¢ to 25¢ from low time Monday. Receipts at 21,000 were nearly 10,000 below expectations, and with speculators in the trade the market improved. Local packers seemingly had more urgent orders, due largely to increased eastern and foreign orders for the product. With limited receipts in sight for the next few days, traders are counting on a further reaction. Top hogs sold at $13.25, with the general average at $12.65.

Closing trade in lambs was good, with late business at 50¢ advance. Feeders bought freely, paying as high as $13.00. Aged sheep sold up to $8.50. Closing cattle values were largely 50¢ lower. Seven western markets received 60,000 cattle, 65,000 hogs, and 14,000 sheep, against 60,000 cattle, 72,000 hogs, and 14,000 sheep the previous Tuesday, and 26,000 sheep at Chicago the corresponding Wednesday a year ago.

FINANCIAL NOTES

The Cuban government yesterday asked the state department to designate a financial expert to go to Cuba to assist in working out a solution of the Cuban situation. The request was referred to the group of bankers, who have agreed to assist Cuba financially, and they are expected to name the expert. It is reported that Cuban interests are after a $50,000,000 loan.

Two Bond Issues Offered Chicago Investors Today
 Two sizeable bond issues will be offered in the Chicago investment market today. A block of 19,600,000 Miami conservancy district, Ohio, 5½ per cent serial bonds will be offered by the National City company, the Harris Trust and Savings bank, and the Guaranty company, New York. The bonds mature serially between 1925 and 1949 and are offered at prices to yield 5.40 to 5.60 per cent. The bonds are of a municipal district and so are exempt from federal taxes.

A total of 3,800 men have been laid off by two companies in Hartford, Conn.—the New Departure company and the Hartford Rubber works.

Directors of the Ford Motor company of Canada, at their meeting failed to declare a dividend. The reason given was that they believed it best to conserve their cash resources at this time.

The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the United States department of commerce has announced the approaching visit to Chicago of the trade commissioner, Charles H. Cunningham, who has just completed a thorough investigation of the business and financial situation in Mexico, and is coming here to advise Chicago exporters on that subject. He will remain in this city during Oct. 29 and 30, and will make his headquarters at the Chicago district office of the bureau, 1424 First National Bank building.

The net tonnage of the Panama canal for September was 1,008,785, establishing a high record, and comparing with $51,345 tons in August of this year, the previous high record.

Several cuts in rubber and tire prices are reported. The Firestone Rubber company is said to be quoting rubber tires at 75 per cent off the consumers' prices which were current when the slump hit the industry a few months ago. Goodyear Tire and Rubber and the Manhattan Rubber companies have cut prices on certain lines of mechanical rubber goods 10 per cent, it is reported.

The Republic Rubber corporation, whose pneumatic tire department has been completely suspended since June 30, yesterday resumed production at about one-third the rate at the time of suspension.

Directors of the $5,000,000 Pfister & Vogel Leather company ten year 7 per cent convertible sinking fund gold debentures will be offered by Rutter, Lindsay & Co., White, Weld & Co., the First Wisconsin company, and the Second Ward Securities company, the latter two concerns of Milwaukee, at 95 and interest, yielding 7.75 per cent. The bonds are dated Nov. 1 and are convertible into 7 per cent preferred stock at $100 a share. A sinking fund of $250,000 annually will be used to purchase or call bonds up to 101.

Responsibility

SAFETY OF PRINCIPAL IS OUR FIRST CONSIDERATION

The protection afforded the investor by the services of an investment banking house may be measured by the bankers' conception of their responsibility to the investor. Do they interpret it merely in terms of buyer and seller, or do they conceive it as an intimate relationship between client and banker—a trust based on confidence never to be shaken? Every recommendation of Ames, Emerich & Co. is made with this sense of deep obligation and responsibility to the investor.

Mandel Brothers

Suit shop, fourth floor

Women's new fur trim'd suits at three notably attractive prices

Distinctive, captivating suits, these—compete in cloth, cut and tailoring of higher cost "custom made." The three suits sketched suggest the charm of the many models at each low quotation:

$65 — $75 — 89.50

Pictured at the left—a piquantly youthful model of duvet de laine is effectively adorned with cable stitching, buttons and luxurious sealine collar; $65.

At the center is shown a clever style in velour—the coat, in the new finger-tip length, smartened with a stunning collar of Australian opossum; $75.

A youthful style in yalama cloth, with soft, becoming collar of favored hudson seal; sketched at the right; 89.50. Fourth floor.

"Personal greeting" Christmas cards

would best be ordered now—in order to secure a wider choice of Christmas designs, and better, prompt engraving service. This store's selection of designs in Yuletide cards is now at its best. Engraving section, first floor

Mandel Brothers

Frock shop, fourth floor

Tricotine and yalama cloth frocks at prices that spell economy

You will pronounce these delightful frocks exceptional when you compare them with similar, more expensive dresses, and you will realize that the values are difficult of duplication.

Embroidered frocks $75 beaded frocks

A distinctive tunic model of navy tricotine is artistically bugle beaded and has a fringed sash of fine ribbon; pictured at the left.

A cleverly tailored coat frock of tricotine is adorned with gayly colored collar and cuffs of embroidered silk; sketched at the center.

A novel basque style in navy tricotine or brown yalama cloth has a quaintly laced bodice and a flaring circular overskirt, expertly embroidered. Sketched at right. Fourth floor.

Mandel Brothers

Hat shop, fifth floor

"Slynx" toques—ultra new

"Slynx" is a curly gray fur, much like astrakhan. Hats of "slynx" are reckoned particularly smart when worn with a coat of "slynx" or astrakhan.

Also, squirrel, seal, nutria, mole and beaver hats

—many in effective combination with velvet metal brocade or lace. $25 to $65. Hat shop, fifth floor.

Mandel Brothers

Negligee section, third floor

Robes of duplex corduroy

—a remarkable "purchase"

We saved considerably on these clever, cozy robes, and price them closely, that you may effect the greater economy. Third floor.

Rose robes, 7.95 cherry and copenhagen, orchid robes

The robes are well made of duplex, soft, wide wale corduroy—and are smartly collared, pocketed and sashed. The style sketched above.

Silk negligees reduced 25% to 40% Smartly simple models, and frilly, feminine styles to please tastes widely diverse. Early selection is suggested. Third floor.

Mandel Brothers

Dress goods, second floor

The season's newest in silk embroidered dress goods

Of ultra fine quality, in a host of handsome, exclusive patterns in an excellent assortment of stunning color combinations, these materials will delight the fashion-wise:

Silk emb'd tricotines Silk emb'd poret twills
Silk emb'd French serge Silk emb'd broadcloths
Silk emb'd clay serge Silk emb'd duvet de laine

All in 54-inch widths; the popular fall and winter shades featured. Prices, $10 to 18.50. Second floor.

Reductions on high grade Marseilles bedspreads

At the prices quoted, merchandise of this better sort is rarely to be had:

Satin marseilles bedspreads, 6.35 Hemmed, 80x90 inches, in handsome designs.

Satin finished marseilles bedsets Scaloped spread, 80x90 inches, bolster cover to match. Very low at 8.65 and 9.15 the set. Second floor.

"Imperial," "Regal" sheets and cases at reductions based on readjustment prices. The brands are popular, dependable. Sheets:

63x99 inches, 2.30 each 72x99 inches, 2.55
81x99 inches, 2.80 each 90x99 inches, 3.00

WILSON MAKES

LEAGUE PL

FROM HIS CHA

Condition "Nothi

Less than Tragic

(By a Staff Correspondent)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—

President Wilson today

delivered the first speech he has since he was taken ill more year ago. It was his appeal of the campaign to the people in behalf of the league of nations. He spoke at the house to a group of pro-league Republicans, headed by Hamilton Holt,

one of the Independents.

Speaking from his wheel chair,

President defended the league which he had declared "the most practical and the most valuable of the league's advocates. He said that the league was the only way to secure world peace and that it was no dangerous to break the league for party purposes.

President Ignored Cox.

Not once during his talk was

Mr. Cox or his stand on the league

mentioned. But as to the league itself, the president's speech was marked by the utter candor and the president's physical weakness made it the most impressive.

The president stood pat on Arthur, declaring that "there was only one way to assure world peace and that was to make it so dangerous to break the league that no other nation will be so stupid as to attempt it."
